$2.9 million price for Depot property

By BILL WINTER and HARRY BARNES
Quad-City area government officials can proceed to develop the southeastern corner of the local Army Support Center for industrial purposes. It was announced Tuesday in Chicago by Region Five of the U. S. General Services Administration.

Eligible are the cities of Granite City, Madison and Venice and the Tri-City Regional Port District.

Port officials told the Granite City Board of Realtors Nov. 21 that "we are in the process of acquiring the property for expansion of the Port's facilities." They said later they distributed brochures on the warehouses and tracts in order to give as much time as possible for potential industrial tenants to step forward.

Dennis R. Spearman, acting director, Real Property Division, Federal Property Resources Service, said Tuesday the Quad-City area will need to decide by Dec. 14 which public agency will purchase the property.

Goal of the industrial development plan is to expand local job opportunities and encourage economic, production, storage and shipping activities. All four governmental bodies are believed to share the same general hopes for the southern third of the former Granite City Army Depot.

Mayor Paul Schuler at Tuesday night's City Council meeting in Granite

City suggested an early meeting between representatives of Madison, Venice, the Tri-City Port and Granite City to determine which entities are still actively interested in acquiring surplus federal property, and the sections in which they are interested.

Referring to Monday's Press-Record article, "Seek industries for Depot sites," the mayor said, "The Port District does not yet own any of that land, and the three cities still may acquire Depot land."

Referring to Monday's Press-Record article, "Seek industries for Depot sites," the mayor said, "The Port District does not yet own any of that land, and the three cities still may acquire Depot land."

Mayor Schuler commented that acquisition of property at the Depot "could be very valuable" to the city, although he noted that "a great deal of money" would be involved in purchasing and developing the surplus tract. None of the four governmental bodies has cash on hand sufficient to buy the property and retain it on a speculative basis.

It is believed that securing leases from specific industries—or, alternatively, re-selling some of the facilities to industries—could be a key to arranging the financing.

Another possibility might be industrial revenue bonding. Such bond issues have been utilized by the City of

County Baptists open their arms to 'boat' family

By PAT FOLEY
Ca Lan Voong, his wife Sy Ly Cu and their six children are just beginning to settle into their new home on East Main Street in Maryville.

Quad-City and other Madison County Baptists arranged for their departure from the Far East; the Cantonese family arrived at Lambert Airport on Tuesday evening.

Just six and a half months ago they were living in a refugee camp in Hong Kong, being eight of the more fortunate "boat people" who fled their homeland of Vietnam and made it to safety.

Before March 15 of this year, they lived near the village of Quang Ninh, situated near the Chinese border. During the Vietnam war, this area was North Vietnam.

The Voong family is traditionally Cantonese and still retains the Chinese culture and language. One son does speak limited Vietnamese, but for practical purposes the Voong family is Chinese.

Selma Wong, a student at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville majoring in mass communications, was the interpreter for this interview with the Voongs yesterday afternoon.

Miss Wong is originally from Hong Kong and speaks fluent Cantonese. The Voong family was brought to the U.S. by the Madison County Baptist Association.

Through the untiring efforts of the Rev. W.T. "Jack" Branon, director of missions for the association, and the missions committee, chaired by Bill H. Terrell of Granite City, the Voongs have found freedom, the goal that made them want to leave their homeland.

Voong said they were never hurt by the Vietnamese government, but the soldiers did repeatedly take their food and any valuables they could find. They departed from Vietnam on a small fishing boat packed with 150 persons on March 15. They were at sea for 55 days, finally on May 8 reaching Hong Kong, where they lived until this Monday.

They arrived here Tuesday evening at Lambert after a flight lasting more than 24 hours from Hong Kong via San Francisco.

Their new home, next to the First Baptist Church of Maryville, was furnished by the church. The furnishings, food and clothing awaiting them were donated by members of the association.

The six children range in age from 17 to one year old. They are: Quyen, 17; Khun, 15; Binh, 13, all sons; Kim, 10, the oldest daughter; Tran, 3, a son; and Ngoc, a one-year-old girl.

The Baptist Association saw a need to help one of the families stranded at the refugee camps, so three months ago the Home Mission Board in Atlanta, Ga., was contacted for assistance in sponsoring a family to live in the U.S.

This information was passed on to Church World Services, based in New York City, which worked out the actual details of the sponsorship by the local group.

The Voong family was among five of six other families that were available for sponsorship and was finally chosen by the missions committee.

It has since been discovered that Ca Lan Voong's mother and two of his nephews, who also came to the U.S., are living in Kansas City, Mo.

It is hoped that a reunion can be arranged in the near future.

An obvious barrier for the children will be adapting to the English speaking schools. Rev. Branon said that the local schools are willing to teach them English and instruct them as best they can for the time being. A similar problem existed with several students who only spoke Mexican when they began, but picked up the language very quickly.

Also, the family's work experience is primarily agricultural, with some skill in metal work. A job for Voong is presently being sought by members of the association.

Other members of the missions committee of the association helping the family overcome these obvious obstacles are: Rev. Chester Parker, pastor of the Calvary Baptist Church in Granite City; Mrs. Gladys Lemonds, Collinsville; and Carlos LeVaulx, Robert Peterson and Mrs. Elaine Atterbury, all of Granite City.

The Voongs have come a long way, half way around the world, and have a long way to go before they will feel really "at home" in their new surroundings.

But with the help of the Madison County Baptist Association and the friendly people of Maryville, the Voongs will surely "make it" and will

Hope for the children — theme of Way of Lights

The National Shrine of Our Lady of the Snows has invited everyone to attend the 10th annual Way of Lights from now through Jan. 6.

The display is sponsored by the Shrine Oblates and the Layman's Association. The Way of Lights, which has over 100,000 lights, will illuminate the shrine nightly from 5 to 10.

The theme for this year's display is "Hope for the Children." The location is 9500 W. Ill. Rte. 15, Belleville.

Pay raises at Area College

Non-academic staff members will receive an additional one percent salary increase and secretarial-clerical personnel will receive an additional flat sum of $135 as a measure of equity light and the 8.6 percent salary increase given to faculty members at Belleville Area College. Non-academic and clerical groups had previously been given a seven percent increase in yearly pay.

During the November meeting of the Board of Trustees last week, college administrators were given an average of nine percent additional pay, with slightly less than one percent added for increased levels of education obtained by some administrators.

Faculty members automatically receive pay increases when additional degrees are obtained; administrators do not.

Salary recommendations accepted by a 4-3 vote include $39,204 for three vice presidents and $32,190 for another; $37,270 for two deans and $37,050 for another; $33,000 for the director of counseling.

Also, $32,738 for the director of learning resources; $33,292 for the registrar; $31,234 for the personnel officer; $30,000 for the assistant dean of general studies and community services; $24,150 for the public information officer; $27,000 for the superintendent of buildings and grounds; $16,530 for the assistant registrar.

Also, $20,796 for the director of financial aids and placement; $21,255 for the director of student activities; $21,621 for the director of programs and services for older persons; $22,500 for the manager of data processing; $21,000 for the purchasing agent; $16,532 for one systems analyst and $16,360 for another; $18,100 for the bookstore manager; $19,162 for the assistant superintendent of buildings and grounds.

And, $17,408 for the print shop manager; $16,800 for the placement officer and basketball coach; $17,756 for the chief accountant; $17,600 for the security chief; $13,800 for the director of intramurals; and $15,800 for the assistant director of financial aids.

Administrative salaries covered under grants obtained by the college and subject to continuation of the grants are: director of the educational effort at Menard, $30,616; director of Region XV Career Guidance Center, $21,104; director of the disadvantaged Student Grant Program, $16,290; and Director of Project Positive Step, $14,832.

Unanimous approval was given to the following salaries: secretary to the president, $14,825; secretary to the board, $10,131; payroll supervisor, $14,213; attorney (part-time) $2,800; and treasurer (part-time), $4.80 per hour.

Board Member Edward O'Malley of Belleville asked that it be noted that he had no objections to the dollars recommended for administrators, although he voted against the raises.

"I am arguing about grouping or classifying them in groups," he said. "I like to think of our people earning their salaries on individual merit."

Mascouth Board Member Elizabeth Jenner said, "I feel no need to justify my vote. My vote is because of the salary amounts."

After discussing the issue in an executive session, the board set President William K. Keel's salary at $44,771, a 9.6 percent increase.

After the discussion concerning administrative salary raises, the board voted to invite proposals for firms capable of researching administrative salaries and salaries and making recommendations to the college. That motion passed unanimously.

The builders have stockpiled material to allow the project to continue during inclement weather. Structural steel and bar joists are in place, Hausman said, and some work is ahead of schedule. Fifty-six percent of the total contract has been paid at this time, with $98,500 going out in October for a total of $1,700,000 paid to contractors so far.

Both the Cahokia School Board and BAC will get appraisals on the Pitzman School property now being leased by the college for its aviation maintenance and aviation electronics facilities, it was noted.

Several months of discussion have led the college to explore the feasibility of purchasing the property rather than concluding a long-term lease. Pres. Keel pointed out that any negotiations between the two boards would be subject to approval by the Illinois Board of Higher Education and the Illinois Community College Board, and to the availability of financing.

An accusation that Pres. Keel "interfered with the grading procedures of a part-time teacher was the topic of a complaint brought to the Board of Trustees.

D. C. Edwards, who spoke for the complaining faculty members, contended that the college's grievance procedure was not followed, that the part-time teacher was either directly or indirectly harassed into changing a grade, and that the instructor was not given an opportunity to defend his grading practices.

Sparta Board member Jack Becker moved that the Curriculum and Education Committee act as a fact-finding committee and report back to the board as a whole. The motion was unanimously approved.

BAC faculty members released a letter to the public expressing "no confidence" in the leadership of the president.

The letter, which carried the date of the meeting, Nov. 20, was deferred until the December meeting by Chairman Robert Dittmann since, he said, "it was received too late to be studied by the board members and responded to at this meeting."

The letter, signed by Jan Milligan, chairman of the Faculty Senate, said that "the air of collegiality has eroded to such a low point that it is difficult to persuade faculty members to serve on committees."

"The low morale and the deteriorating relationship between the faculty and the president, as well as between the faculty and the board, are matters of grave concern to us."

Actions cited by the Faculty Senate which led to the "no confidence" vote were "intervention in the grading process, and the president's granting permission for Vice-President Bruce Wissore to enroll as a full-time student in law school while receiving full pay and compensation for tuition. Wissore is attending law school for a year to use accumulated vacation time. Because he was deemed unable to work for a period of time due to knee surgery, Dr. Keel approved the use of sick leave for that period of schooling, he said. The college adheres to the Association of University Professors guidelines and provides tuition reimbursement for any staff member who is obtaining additional education which will benefit him or her in the performance of duties, Dr. Keel added.

Also cited by the Faculty Senate was Dr. Keel's dissolution of the Faculty Evaluation Committee, which had been charged with the development of an evaluation policy for tenured faculty.

Additional charges leveled at the president included "hiring practices at cross purposes with the Board of Trustees," and low morale as evidenced by the number of grievances filed during the tenure of the president.

Appointments made at the November board meeting were: Natalie Vieveve, secretary to the manager of data processing; Diane Christ, faculty secretary; Jeanne Taylor, secretary to the Senior Aides Program; and Tina Wilson, secretary under the Disadvantaged Student Grant.

Walt Plaskin has replaced Richard Melinder as chairman of the Life and Health Sciences Department. His appointment was confirmed by the board. In the same action, other department chairmen were reappointed. They are:

Arthur Parrish, business; Eugene Masek, English; Wayne Shaw, fine arts; foreign language, and speech; D. C. Edwards, physical and mathematical sciences; Bobby Poe, social sciences; and Martha Giordano, basic education.

Transport Co. reports theft

Five chain binders, two chains and one spare truck tire were reported stolen from B. V. & G. Transport Co., 1537 State St., Monday. The items apparently were taken Thursday or Friday and not discovered missing until Monday, according to the report. Wes Williams who reported the incident, said an employee had seen an old model station wagon around the site last week.

HUNGRY BURGLAR

A burglar forced the rear door lock at the home of Edward Baugh, 1736 Cleveland Blvd., and took three chickens, one pound of hamburger, pork chops, five 1/2 gallons of milk, about $30 cash and $23 in food stamps. It was reported Monday.

Choir from GC in 'Evensong' service

The Most Rev. Stanley G. Schlarman, auxiliary bishop of the Roman Catholic Diocese of Belleville, will be the preacher at an Acolyte and Choir Festival on Sunday, Dec. 2, at St. George's Episcopal Church, 105 E. D St., Belleville.

The Evensong service, marking the first Sunday in Advent, will include choirs and acolytes from five Episcopal parishes in the Western Deane of the Episcopal Diocese of Springfield.

They are: St. Paul's of Alton, St. Bartholomew's of Granite City, St. Andrew's of Edwardsville, Christ Church of Collinsville and St. George's.

The service will begin at 5:30 p.m. Sunday. Parishioners from throughout the deanery and the public are welcome to attend the service, Fr. Hewitt V. Johnston, rector said.

Direct deposit of checks from Social Security

(Office of Lieutenant Governor Dave O'Neal)

Q. How does a person arrange for direct deposit of a Social Security check?

A. To arrange direct deposit, complete Form SF-119 which is available at the financial organization where the checks are to be sent. The people there will assist in completion of the form.

Q. Is it necessary to notify Social Security of an address change if Social Security checks are sent to a bank by direct deposit?

A. Yes, a change in address should be reported so that correspondence pertaining to the person's Social Security record can be sent to the correct mailing address.

Q. Should people enroll for the medical insurance part of Medicare if they have private health insurance which they feel is adequate?

A. Many private health insurance companies point out that their policies for people entitled to Medicare are designed only to supplement Medicare.

They recommend that their policyholders sign up for the medical insurance part of Medicare to get full protection. Private insurance may not pay for some medical services that are covered by Medicare.

Persons should contact their insurance agent to find out what private insurance will cover after they become eligible for Medicare.

Q. What does Medicare pay toward in-patient hospital care?

A. From the first day through the 60th day in each benefit period, Medicare hospital insurance pays for all covered services except the first $160.

This is the hospital insurance deductible.

From the 61st through the 90th day in a benefit period, Medicare hospital insurance pays for all covered services except for $40 a day.

Your Medicare Handbook gives complete information about Medicare coverage of inpatient hospital care. Anyone not having a handbook may request one from the Springfield Social Security office.

Woman on probation is arrested again

Christine H. Hughes, 20, of 2005 Missouri Ave., who was released on two years of probation by Associate Judge Philip J. Rarick early this month after she pleaded guilty to forgery, was arrested again Tuesday on another forgery which allegedly occurred Nov. 7, within a few days of her release on probation.

Authorities allege she was involved in a scheme to open an account at Madison County Federal Savings & Loan with a forged $290 check from the defunct Prodeco firm in Missouri. The money allegedly was removed later the same day. She was taken to the Madison County Jail at Edwardsville in violation of her probation.

Debate treatment cost

By GARY SCHNEIDER

Discussions tonight between members of the Madison County special sewer committee and Granite City aldermen may have a direct bearing on the cost persons who will use the new sanitary sewers in Nameoki, Chouteau and Venice townships will pay for sewage treatment.

At last night's meeting of the county's sewer committee, a copy of the district's proposed operations and maintenance manual was available for inspection and showed that the $10 per month the county plans to charge residential users for treatment and for maintaining the sewers leaves very little room for the treatment cost being higher than engineers for the program have estimated.

The manual, prepared by the Sheppard, Morgan and Schwab engineering firm of Granite City, estimates actual expenses for operations, maintenance and treatment at slightly more than $1.83 per 1,000 gallons of sewage put into the system, while residential sewer users will be charged $2 per 1,000 gallons with a $10 per month minimum charge, representing the first 5,000 gallons of sewage each home will put into the system.

Even with the minimum charge, and if the treatment fee is what the engineers have estimated, the manual predicts the district will lose $139,920 in its first year of operation and $69,480 in the second year, before becoming self-sufficient by the end of the third year.

The reason for the anticipated losses is that the rate structure is established for the predicted 4,370 residential customers and 132 commercial customers expected to be on the line by June of 1983, the manual explains.

However, homes using more than 5,000 gallons in a given month will be charged more than the $10 minimum, according to the manual. The Pontoon Beach and Mitchell Public Water Districts and the Illinois American Water Co. will provide water sales data to the county treasurer, who will use the county's data processing equipment to prepare sewer bills.

The district will pay a total of about $2,900 a year to the water companies for the data, the manual estimates. Negotiations with the city tonight will center on costs the city will charge the county in three areas. The first is the charge for primary and secondary treatment of the sewage, which the manual estimates at 33.4 cents per 100 cubic feet.

The second charge is for debt retirement, or repaying the bonds for building the plants, which the manual estimates at nine cents per 100 cubic feet of sewage. Some disagreement is expected, since several city officials have indicated they want a surcharge to reimburse city residents for the portion they already have paid for building a plant large enough to handle the county sewers, in addition to the city's sewers.

The third cost to be negotiated is the city's cost of billing the county for treatment, including measuring the amount of sewage treated. The manual estimates the cost at one-half cent per 100 cubic feet.

In other business at last night's meeting, Committee Chairman Louis Whitsell said that persons wishing to purchase their sewer pipe and connections in advance for the line from their homes to the new sewers, should purchase six-inch PVC 35 pipe and ask for SDR 35. "This is a heavy-grade plastic pipe. It may be smart to buy now and save money and trouble when everyone is putting in his home sewer at the same time," Whitsell said.

Home resale activity is continuing

Escalating mortgage interest rates and tighter credit have not yet had a substantial impact on the rate of homebuying activity, Dr. Jack Carlson, executive vice president and chief economist of the National Association of Realtors, says. He adds, however, that a dampening of demand is inevitable.

"Estimates for October," Carlson said, "indicate resale activity was at a seasonally adjusted annual rate of 3.9 million units, only slightly less than the rate of 4.01 million transactions reported in September."

Overall, he noted, on a seasonally adjusted basis,

October sales were the second best for any month in 1979. So far this year, sales have averaged 3.75 million units, compared with 3.92 million units in the corresponding period a year ago, a decline of four percent.

"The continued strength of the resale market," he said, "reflects the needs and desires of Americans to move and improve their housing. Only a small portion of home sales can be attributed to speculation, and nearly all October purchases were made for owner occupancy."

Carlson sounded a note of caution, saying that despite the relatively strong sales activity, high interest rates and a growing scarcity of mortgage funds are expected to dampen resale activity to an annual rate of 3.5 million units during the next six months.

He said he expects recovery in resale activity to begin in the spring and summer of 1980.

The National Association of Realtors represents more than 740,000 individuals involved in all phases of the real estate industry.

Reckless homicide charged after crash

Kenneth E. Holder, 35, of Worden was charged with two counts of reckless homicide and one count of driving while under the influence of alcohol Monday in the double fatality Thanksgiving Eve on I-270 near Route 111.

Bond has been set at $50,000.

Roy William Johnson, 41, and his wife, Janice Yvonne, 35, were killed in the accident, which occurred about 7:30 p.m. as they were eastbound on I-270 enroute to Decatur from their home in Blue Springs, Mo.

Holder was driving west in the eastbound lanes of the interstate and struck the Johnson car head-on as Johnson passed another car.

Two of the Johnsons' children, 15-year-old Yvonne and 18-year-old Carl, were injured in the accident and taken to St. Elizabeth Medical Center in Granite City. Yvonne was transferred to Barnes Hospital, St. Louis.

Both children were released Sunday from the respective hospitals.

Holder received minor injuries in the collision.

The Johnson family was enroute to Decatur for a Thanksgiving celebration which was to include the wedding of Mrs. Johnson's sister, Robby McCain.

Holder was released from the Madison County Jail on $100 bond two days after the accident. The new charges were filed Monday by Madison County State's Attorney Nicholas Byron.

In another information issued by Byron Monday, Stephen Gall of Pierron was charged with reckless homicide and DWI in connection with an accident which occurred April 21, 1979 on Route 160, north of I-70, near Highland in which Kenneth Korte was killed. He was also charged with improper lane usage.

Hearing today on rail yards

A hearing is being held today in East St. Louis on metropolitan area railroad yard revision plans, that could put added emphasis on the Madison yards, which include the area beneath the Broadway viaduct in Venice.

The plans are being developed by the Federal Railroad Administration. The FRA is in the second phase of a three-phase program intended to give area railroads, the U.S. and the Illinois Transportation Department practical plans for relocating rail lines on the East St. Louis riverfront and modernizing various yard yards and facilities to provide faster and more economical movement of rail cars through the St. Louis gateway, particularly Madison and St. Clair counties.

Railroad restructuring issues have been outlined by the St. Louis Metropolitan Area Rail Gateway Enterprise (MARGE), based on a detailed FRA study.

The study recognizes that there will be some difficulties involved in a massive reorganization, and states: "The primary effects of the project will be to reduce railroad operations and eliminate facilities on both riverfronts, principally the East bank, concentrating operations in or adjacent to existing classification yards."

"Some of the increased operations, however, will probably extend into existing neighborhoods."

"The changes in the St. Louis railroad terminal raise numerous environmental issues associated with the topics presented above. With a clear identification of issues and impacts, it becomes possible to select that alternative which best meets the project's goals," the study states.

Major areas where changes may be noted include:

Air quality — Diesel exhaust and other rail-related emissions account for less than one percent of air pollutants in the metropolitan area, but changes in re-routing and switching operations could cause localized changes in air quality.

Water quality — Measures must be considered to minimize any detrimental effects of runoff into the Cahokia Canal, Horseshoe Lake, Harding Ditch, Holten State Park lakes and the Mississippi River.

Noise and vibration — Mufflers, baffles, walls or embankments may be required in some areas where the duration of noise may increase, even though the general level of noise is not expected to change significantly.

Wetlands — Special evaluation will be required to avoid disturbing the "ecologically fragile habitats" in this area, since the wetlands are "sensitive to disruption."

Flood hazard areas — Relocation of some storm drainage canals, particularly near Centerville, may be necessary to protect the drainage.

Elderly and handicapped — Special care will have to be taken to avoid interrupting pedestrian routes or to provide alternate routes for pedestrian traffic.

Land use — Some land could be freed for redevelopment by relocating rail tracks while only a small amount of land will be needed for new tracks.

Vehicle traffic — Some crossings may be tied up more frequently, while others will have less rail traffic. "Each crossing will be examined closely to determine the precise effects," according to the report.

Taxes — Relocating some rail facilities will result in changes in tax assessments in some areas, which will affect local tax bills for property owners.

However, vacated land will provide opportunities for redevelopment, and the replacement of delays at rail crossings could have positive economic effects, offsetting most tax increases.

Public safety — Fewer tieups at grade crossings should provide reductions in train-auto accidents and should improve emergency services by ambulance, fire trucks and police and other emergency vehicles. Safer shipments of hazardous materials should also result from the rail improvements.

Construction impacts — Temporary impacts may be expected during rail relocation activities affecting air and water quality, noise, interruption of highway and pedestrian access to some areas, disruption of some businesses and disturbances of some ecological habitats.

The FRA conducted the first phase of the study and turned its findings over to the IDOT, which is to research the various aspects of the study in greater detail. Both Phase Two and Phase Three, the implementation stage, are IDOT projects.

Value of loot in thousands of dollars

An inventory is being conducted to determine what was stolen during a burglary at the home of Danny Hutches, 2822 Nameoki Road, Tuesday night, but the loot already is in the thousands of dollars, according to official reports.

Hutches said loot included $1,400 to $1,500 in change, including collector's coins, five cameras, three shotguns, one rifle, assorted ammunition, more than 13 collector's decanter bottles, a suitcase and a wastebasket.

Entry was believed gained through an unlocked window after an attempt to open the rear door by breaking off the doorknob failed to open the lock.

The house was ransacked and drawers were dumped on the floor.

License revocation ordered

Revocation of the J & J liquor license was announced at Tuesday night's City Council meeting in Granite City by Mayor Paul Schuler, who cited allegations of law violations, including the age of buyers and an employee.

His order as liquor commissioner related that "this cause comes on for hearing pursuant to notice for the purpose of determining whether the local retail liquor license of the licensee, Sarah Elizabeth Stephens, doing business as J & J Pk. Liquors, 3112 Maryville Road, Granite City, should be revoked or suspended and, if suspended, the duration of such suspension.

"Licensee appears personally and with her attorney, City is represented by assistant city attorney, witnesses sworn. Evidence heard. Cause is taken under advisement by the local liquor commissioner on Nov. 16, 1979. The licensee has waived her right to be heard at that time and has agreed to an extension to the 12th day of December 1979 for issuance of the license.

"The local liquor commissioner finds as follows:

1. "Licensee, Sarah Elizabeth Stephens, received the license at the time and place of the hearing and was present and participated in the same with her counsel.

2. "Licensee operated under the name of J & J Pk. Liquors during all times pertinent to this proceeding.

3. "When the licensee applied for her license she was a resident of the City of Granite City. Subsequently she removed her residence from the city but did not give notification to the liquor commissioner of that fact, and for a substantial time prior to the hearing lived outside the City of Granite City, although upon the date of hearing intended to move her residence back into Granite City. The licensee is incorporated, nor is the licensed business operated by a corporation.

4. "The husband of the licensee, Joseph Stephens, has acted in the role of a manager in the absence of licensee, supervising employees and giving instructions which the employees reasonably believed to be the instructions from the licensee, and such instructions were treated as such.

5. "The said Joseph Stephens while serving as manager for the licensee, and being knowingly permitted by the licensee to act as such, instructed employees of the licensee to willfully disregard the law of the State of Illinois and the ordinances of the City of Granite City and to violate the same.

6. "The licensee hired and employed a minor of the age of 18 years and placed said minor in the position where she sold alcoholic beverages to customers, in violation of the ordinances.

"While this fact alone would not provide the basis for revocation of license, it is a factor which weighs heavily when considered in the light of the other facts in the case.

7. "The licensee sold alcoholic beverages to minors and under circumstances which would have caused a reasonably prudent vendor to inquire concerning the age of the customer, but without so inquiring, and such instances have occurred consistently and repeatedly.

8. "The said Joseph Stephens has impugned the integrity of local public officials by stating that the liquor license laws would not be enforced against the licensee because of political considerations.

9. "The conduct of said Joseph Stephens under the supervision — and with the apparent authority to act from the licensee — was in wanton disregard of the welfare and the rights of the citizens of Granite City and in disregard of state law and local ordinance.

10. "The above described conduct of the licensee and her employees proves that the licensee is not a fit person to hold a local liquor license.

"Wherefore, it is ordered that the local retail liquor license of the licensee, Sarah Elizabeth Stephens, d-b-a J & J Pk. Liquors, shall be and is hereby revoked forthwith pursuant to authority in me vested.

"Dated Granite City, Ill., this 27th day of November 1979."

DRIVER IS ARRESTED

Stephen L. Mitchell, 21, Collinsville, was charged with driving while under the influence of liquor or drugs, using an expired driver's license and not having valid registration for his vehicle, which was stopped by Granite City police at 11:40 p.m. Tuesday. Officers alleged the vehicle was being driven in a reckless manner and nearly struck a car head-on while turning onto Madison Avenue at 27th Street. It was stopped at 24th Street and Madison Avenue, police said.

Proceed with warning sirens in Arlington area

By PETE STEHMAN

Nameoki Township tired of waiting on the State of Illinois, it was indicated here Monday night.

For almost four years, township officials have waited to receive word on whether a 50 percent grant would be awarded to reimburse some costs for installing warning sirens in the Arlington Heights area.

At the outset, officials were optimistic the grant would be approved as time went on. When the topic came up at the Town Board meeting Monday night, trustees agreed to go ahead with the $10,000 project whether the township will be reimbursed by the state or not.

Trustee Lee Adams, who served as meeting chairman in the absence of Supervisor Harold Davis, said Arlington Heights residents shouldn't have to wait any longer for the sirens. "After all, they've been promised this for four years now," he commented.

Adams said he checked with state officials and learned the grant probably will not be approved in this fiscal year. But he is still hopeful it will eventually be approved. The application is still on file with state officials.

The sirens will have three different tones, one for severe weather, another for attack and an extra signal which could be activated as a fire alert in the event the Long Lake Fire Department would ever build an engine house near the subdivision.

The sirens would be activated by Pontoon Beach Police and Long Lake Fire Department dispatchers.

The $10,000 expenditure has been budgeted for several years through federal revenue sharing funds. The budgeted amount corresponds with an estimate of what the system will cost.

The siren will be mounted on a 40-foot utility pole near the Arlington Heights sewage treatment plant and will be within audible distance of the Holiday Mobile Home Park on nearby State Rd. 35.

In other action at this week's meeting, the trustees:

—Hired Tom Boush of Granite City as part-time rabies control officer. His telephone number is 931-2037. Trustees said Boush should be called by residents complaining of stray animals on nights and weekends.

—Approved transfer of $500 each from the equipment maintenance fund to contingency accounts to the rabies control account.

—Agreed to close the township office Dec. 24 Christmas Eve. Approval was given for 1979 only.

—Voted to change the township board's regular meeting from Dec. 24 to Dec. 22 at 10 a.m.

The Dec. 10 meeting will be held at the regular time.

Chouteau Yule breakfast Dec. 22

By GARY SCHNEIDER of the Press-Record

"The Chouteau Town Board of Trustees met with the township's community development committee Monday night and discussed plans for a Christmas breakfast with Santa for children residing in the township.

The groups decided to hold the event at the township hall on Saturday, Dec. 22, beginning at 9 a.m. Jerome Juda has agreed to appear as Santa's representative.

The township and citizens' committee will provide donuts, milk and treats for the children, as well as entertainment.

Mrs. Clayton Presley was named chairman of the township's Christmas breakfast. Since it is difficult to determine how many children will attend, it would be impractical for Santa to have gifts for the children, but treats will be provided, it was explained. Community Development funds will be used for the party.

The committee voted to donate $500 from money it raised during the Bicentennial fund drive to the township for Christmas lights and decorations.

The committee also discussed a program to help fund sanitary sewer hookups for low-income and retired persons meeting the income guidelines established by the Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD).

Methods for reaching more low-income people to tell them about the program were discussed and the committee and board agreed to set a date in the future for a house-to-house canvass of the township.

Supervisor Walter "Dick" Sparks noted that about 50 applications for sewer hookups on grants from the township's community development funds have been received through a Press-Record campaign in which a coupon was put in several issues of the newspaper, but said he believes many eligible persons have not yet applied for assistance.

Maximum income guidelines for families which qualify for all or part of the sewer connection costs to be paid with community development funds range from $6,000 for one person to $13,000 for a family of seven.

Income maximums for families of from two to six, in that order, are: $7,400; $8,800; $10,000; $11,000 and $12,000.

Sparks said he is getting estimates from several contractors on the prices for pipe to attempt to prepare estimates on the average cost, per foot, to install sewer lines from the houses to the new sanitary sewers. Tap-ons to the new sanitary sewers should begin next summer, he said.

Persons knowing of low-income residents in the township who might qualify for grants are being encouraged to contact the township office at 931-0223, so a township representative may explain the program to eligible families.

Sparks stressed that families receiving a grant will not be obligated to repay the money. "This is strictly a gift. No liens can be taken against your property, and there will be no bills. The money does not have to be given back," he stated.

Soroptimist offers two award programs

The Soroptimist International of Metro-East announces two awards programs available at this time, according to Mrs. Elma Hoover, past president.

The Youth Citizenship awards applications have been placed at the high schools and may be obtained from the counselor's offices. This is a competition for graduating seniors based on their citizenship activities. The local club is accepting applications to Dec. 31, after which they will be judged for local winners.

The top award will be sent to the region to be judged with applications from other clubs in the region for a regional award of $1,000. The national winner is awarded an additional $1,500.

The second awards program pertains to assistance to women over 30 years of age, preferably either the head of a household or have a family financially dependent on her. The object of this award is to train or retrain a woman to enter or reenter the labor market and enable her to move to a higher level skilled job. These applications must also be in the hands of the local club by Dec. 31 for judging at the local level.

There are two $1,250 awards given in each region. These applications may be obtained from BAC at Washington School, the BAC office at South High School, or by calling Mrs. Elma Hoover, 876-0505.

Granite City to aid in the expansion of health facilities, to improve the environment, and to encourage new and expanding manufacturing plants to locate buildings and equipment here. Each of the three cities is represented on the seven-member Port District board by one municipal representative; the other four commissioners are appointed by the governor.

Local mayors are Mike Sasyk of Madison, Tyrone Echols of Venice and Paul Schuler of Granite City. Since it was created 20 years ago, the Port has been led by Carl A. Ranft, John N. Bellico and then Homer A. Huber, the current board chairman. Ranft is general manager.

Text of the General Services Administration letter received Tuesday by Mayor Schuler follows:

"The Cities of Madison, Venice and Granite City and the Tri-City Regional Port District are the four public agencies which have expressed interest in purchasing a surplus portion of the St. Louis Area Support Center (formerly, the Granite City Army Depot).

"We recently obtained an appraisal of the surplus value of the property, and we request that the three cities and the Port District decide which of these public bodies will purchase the property.

"The surplus land, designated Tract 6, consists of approximately 276 acres in the southern part of the Support Center. A narrow strip of land along the south boundary of the Support Center in which the City of Madison has a license for a pumping station and right-of-way is not part of Tract 6.

The improvements on Tract 6 include three warehouses, four open-sided sheds, one frame and five metal storage buildings, utilities, roads and railroad track.

"Two of the warehouses are of identical construction, each containing 307,660 square feet in six equal size sections separated by fire walls. These buildings have concrete foundations and floors, brick walls and wood roof supports.

"The buildings are equipped with incandescent lighting and are fully sprinklered with dry systems. A concrete outdoor truck dock extends the full length of the building on one side; a similar rail dock is on the other side.

"These buildings are unheated. The width of these warehouses is 180 feet. A 60-foot-wide center section has a clear height of 22 feet; clear height in the remainder is 14 feet. Floor load capacity is 300 pounds per square foot.

"A third warehouse contains 135,186 square feet and is constructed of concrete block with steel deck roof and steel roof supports. Floors and foundations are concrete. Floor load capacity is 300 pounds per square foot. Clear height is 22 feet.

"This unheated building is divided into three equal-size sections and is fully sprinklered with a dry system. There are recessed truck docks and a full-length rail dock with steel canopy.

"Two of the open-sided sheds contain 162,060 square feet each, are constructed entirely of wood with concrete slab floors and are not sprinklered.

"Two of the sheds contain 182,620 square feet each, have steel frames, wood roofs, concrete floors, and are fully sprinklered.

"The remaining buildings range in size from 4,000 to 5,000 square feet and are suitable for storage. The frame building is in poor condition.

"Tract 6 will be sold subject to existing easements for overhead and underground utilities.

"The government will reserve rights-of-way in First Street, Bissell Street, and Wharf Road. The government will also reserve temporary rights to land within 1,250 feet of Building 500 while that building is used for storage of explosives.

"The purchaser is to perform the following services at its own expense:

"To install and maintain fencing along all boundaries between Tract 6 and government-retained parts of the Support Center, such fencing to be comparable in kind and height to existing Support Center boundary fencing.

"To construct patrol roads as necessary to provide a patrol road on government land along all boundaries between Tract 6 and government-retained parts of the Support Center.

"To construct a gate house at the intersection of First and D Streets, such construction to be satisfactory to the port engineer, St. Louis Area Support Center.

"And to separate all utilities serving Tract 6 from utilities serving the Support Center, in a manner satisfactory to the port engineer, St. Louis Area Support Center.

"The purchaser is to perform the following services for an amount to be deducted from the purchase price of Tract 6:

"Remove government-owned materials from their present location in the center of Tract 6 to a government retained site of approximately 10 acres located southeast of, and contiguous with, Tract 6. These materials consist of approximately 48,000 tons of metals and 600,000 tons of bauxite.

"Construct a fence along the boundary of the aforementioned 10-acre site, such fence to be of chain link design, not less than eight feet in height and topped with three strands of barbed wire.

"Based on an appraisal and market analysis, the price for Tract 6 is $2,900,000.

"From this price a reasonable deduction (as determined by the General Services Administration) may be made for the cost of relocating the bauxite and metals.

"When it has been decided which public agency will purchase the property, a more detailed and comprehensive offer to purchase will be prepared.

"Upon receipt by the General Services Administration of the offer together with an earnest money deposit in the form of a certified or cashier's check for not less than ten percent of the purchase price, the offer will be sent to the Senate's Governmental Affairs Committee and the Government Operations Committee of the House of Representatives for their review.

"Conveyance of title will be made upon satisfactory completion by the purchaser of the services described above.

"The purchaser might also be asked to guarantee performance. The balance of the purchase price is payable at closing.

"Please inform us by Dec. 14, 1979, of the decision on which agency is to purchase the property. We are sending identical letters to the mayors of Venice and Madison, and to the general manager of the Tri-City Regional Port District."

New Madison terminal

By MICK STRANGE
of the Press-Record

Kreider Truck Service, Inc. plans to move its present facilities at Collinsville to Madison and construct a new terminal that will cost between $670,000 and $750,000.

At the Tuesday evening City Council a resolution was approved authorizing a tentative memorandum of agreement with the trucking firm.

Under the Industrial Revenue Act, the city will sell up to $750,000 in bonds to help finance the new terminal facilities.

There will be no financial liability on the part of the city. Payment of the bonding debt is being guaranteed by the Behnken Truck Service, Inc., of New Athens, Ill., the parent company.

According to Joseph R. Behnken, chairman of the board of Kreider Truck Service, Inc., the project will cost $670,000. The Mark Twain Northland Bank of St. Louis has already agreed to purchase $600,000 worth of the bonds and the remaining $70,000 will come from the trucking company.

The company will purchase approximately 10 acres of land belonging to the Illinois Central Gulf Railroad. The property is bordered by Collinsville and Washington avenues and the railroad tracks. Plans call for the construction of a new truck terminal building 200 feet by 70 feet, giving the company 14,000 square feet.

The front of the building will face Collinsville Avenue. According to Behnken, the building will be very attractive in appearance and their trucks are also kept clean and are almost all new and late models.

The company is a completely closed operation, according to Behnken. A railroad spur will also be built and all loading is done directly from the railroad car to the trucks. Loading of the trucks is a completely closed operation, according to Behnken.

The company employs 75 persons. In answer to a question on employment by Madison Mayor Mike Sasyk, Behnken said that several of the current employees will no doubt continue their employment, but that Madison residents will be given first consideration as persons are hired.

Mayor Sasyk said, "The council and I are interested in jobs for Madison people and do appreciate your company being interested in locating here. We don't expect you to hire people that are not qualified and if they don't produce you could fire them the next day and we would not object. We do appreciate consideration for jobs going to Madison people first, if they are qualified."

The company operates 44 stainless steel tank trucks and 45 aluminum dry bulk trucks.

The company's terminal at 8003 Collinsville Road, East St. Louis, is not large enough to meet its needs now, according to Behnken.

Truck terminals are also operated by the company, at Decatur, Ill., and LaPayette, Ind.

When the vote was taken Second Ward Alderman Frank Dutko abstained. Dutko expressed concern over the use of the word chemicals in the agreement.

Behnken said that plastic food pellets were chemicals. He further stated that the company does not now or in the future plan to handle any hazardous material.

Construction of the new terminal is expected to start as soon as all the legal matters are finished and final approval is given by the council.

The company hopes to begin construction within the next few weeks.

Under a fuel aid law signed Tuesday, Supplemental Security Income recipients will receive assistance, including a one-time payment of $34 to $250 depending on weather conditions and energy use; payments will average $97 per person and are to be paid Jan. 7. The U. S. will distribute $400 million in supplemental income payments and about $800 million in block grants to states, which will disperse those funds. With 7,000,000 elderly and poor to be helped, they are being urged to check with their welfare offices.

A stone figurine 700 to 800 years old was unearthed this week along the path of the Interstate 270 highway alignment project near the Cahokia Mounds. It is a likeness of a woman carrying a hoe and kneeling on a snake-like creature (with a jaguar head) whose tail splits into vines bearing gourds.

School districts will begin getting advance state aid this week, thanks to a distribution change prompted by the financial plight of Chicago schools. Granite City will get $865,000, Madison $229,000 and Venice $11,000, a total of $1,105,000.

Gambling raids yesterday

Granite City police conducted gambling raids on two establishments yesterday, arresting three persons and seizing gambling tabs.

Charles C. Hitchcock, 46, of 3205 Harvey Road, bartender at the American Legion, 1825 State St., was charged with possession of gambling paraphernalia after two detectives entered the building at 1:40 p.m. yesterday and alleged finding a machine which dispenses 50-cent "Nevada tabs" in an enclosure near the entry door.

A card game involving six men who had money on the table also was halted and police took the names of the men, but did not arrest them.

Hitchcock was released on $5 cash bond.

At 3:30 p.m. Wednesday, the same two detectives executed a search warrant at Ken & Rose's Tavern, 1529 East Twentieth St., and arrested the owner and bartender.

Arthur Clement, 52, of 1537a E. 20th St., the bartender, was charged with gambling and Kenneth R. Archer, 54, of the same address, the owner, was charged with possession of gambling paraphernalia. They were released on $37 cash bond each.

The detectives said they were in Ken & Rose's at 11:30 a.m. Wednesday and allegedly purchased 10 gambling tabs from Clement for 50 cents each.

They then got a search warrant from Circuit Judge Charles Chapman and used the warrant in the afternoon raid, where gambling tabs were allegedly found.

JEOP is STOLEN
The blue and white 1977 Jeep of Jesse Stenoking, O'Fallon, was stolen from the parking lot of Charlie's Restaurant, Nameki Road at Madison Avenue, between 7:30 and 9:50 p.m. Tuesday. The owner said he still has the keys, so the ignition lock must have been bypassed.

Abduction is reported

A 17-year-old girl student at Madison High School told authorities that she was abducted from Greenwood Street and Edwardsville Road near Madison between 7:30 and 8 a.m. Tuesday by a man who drove her to Bond Road near Horsehoe Lake, east of Route 203, where he fondled her and tried unsuccessfully to rape her.

He returned her unharmed to the high school about one-half hour after she was abducted, she said.

The victim told Madison County sheriff's deputies that she was walking to school when the man, about 35 years old, forced her physically into a small station wagon. No weapon was displayed.

She said the man did not harm her and she was able to resist his attempts to rape her. She said she had not seen the man before.

Survivors include one brother, Stephen Girard, St. Petersburg, Fla.; and a nephew, E. Girard Bauer, Baldwin, Mo.

Funeral arrangements are given in the obituary column.

MISS GIRARD, retired GC teacher, dies
Miss Elise Girard, 76, of 2441 E. 24th St., a retired teacher in the Granite City School District, died at 5:30 a.m. today at St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

She had been in ill health since Nov. 17.

Miss Girard was employed by Granite City School District 9 for 26½ years. She retired from Webster School in 1970.

Born in Bloomington, Ill., Miss Girard had resided in this area for 35½ years. She was a member of the Presbyterian faith.

Funeral services will be held at 10 a.m. Saturday, Dec. 1, at RANDALL IRWIN CHAPEL FOR FUNERALS, 2801 Madison Ave. Interment St. John Cemetery, 2901 Nameki Rd. Visitation after 5 p.m. Friday.

Record GC Steel shipments in 1979 likely; below normal activity through February '80 but upturn in spring forecast

A business downturn forecast for Granite City Steel should be short, according to Granite City Steel President James V. Stack in an article in this month's issue of The Mill, the plant newspaper.

Stack said current steel orders are slow, but the sales department sees a bright future beginning in the second quarter of 1980. GC Steel is a division of National Steel Corp.

He gave details of the downward trend in the nation's steel production. Output in the United States during the third quarter of this year was two percent below that for the same period a year earlier, and the slowing of steel production continued into October.

During the third month, production of 10.7 million net tons was 12 percent below

October 1978. And raw steel production for the week ending Nov. 10 was the lowest in 21 months.

Stack said that while production and shipments at GC Steel had held up well throughout 1979, he can see a definite dropoff in the months just ahead. He quoted GC Steel Sales Manager Harry C. Bott on the outlook:

"We're starting a four-month period of below-normal activity. November and December should be about 10 percent below normal, and January and February from 15 to 20 percent below."

"There are two main factors that put us in this position. First of all is the automotive downturn."

"The gasoline crunch made everybody turn away from big cars, and the auto industry is in trouble from that standpoint. This, in turn, is reflected in its suppliers—the people who make everything from wheels to turn signals."

"This 'ripple effect' hits our order book directly and indirectly, in that some of our customers make parts used in cars, while others make components of parts for cars. We expect that situation to prevail through the first quarter of 1980."

"The second factor is the money supply. With the prime interest rate at an all-time high, our customers are cutting their inventories and not tying up their funds in steel in their warehouses."

"More and more customers will be looking for quick deliveries from us, because they are ordering less at this point so they'll have less damage in inventory. This situation also should last through the first quarter of next year."

"In addition, the winter months at Granite City Steel are normally slow, as the construction industry and agriculture come to a virtual standstill," Bott concluded.

Stack said that the slow period will be used to perform some of the necessary maintenance work that needs to be done at the plant. He said the "B" Blast Furnace will be taken down for relining in early December.

"We're going to try to keep the 'A' Furnace operating for as long as it will reasonably hold-up. The 'B' Furnace project will likely take 11 weeks," Stack related.

He commented that the performance in the past year has been outstanding—and that this is being reflected in National Steel's willingness to spend a considerable amount of money to upgrade facilities at the local plant.

He gave examples: "You all know about the Continuous Casters and the KMS furnace revamp that are taking place at the Basic Oxygen Furnace shop."

"The casters is scheduled for startup in December 1980. Prior to that, we should see the changeover to the KMS steelmaking method for greater efficiency in the basic oxygen furnace process."

"More millions of dollars are going into environmental improvements, like the rebuild of the 'A' Coke Oven Battery, scheduled to start up in April."

"We hope to follow that with a similar rebuild on the 'B' Battery and parts of the

'C' Battery. Other environmental and energy-saving projects are under way in our plant or are planned."

Stack said that the National Steel Corp. has "a lot of confidence" in the Granite City Division.

"We have to live up to their expectations," he said. "To do so, we've got to be even more cost competitive than we are now. And you can all (speaking to the employees) help that situation by improved productivity."

He explained the competitive position in which Granite City Steel finds itself.

"Not only are we competing against other materials and, yes, against other National Steel divisions."

"And if our customers are going to continue placing their orders with us, we've got to find ways of delivering even more of their orders on time and with a quality product."

"More customers are going to have low inventories and will be looking to us for quick steel delivery. The mills that supply the customers best will get the orders."

Stack again quoted Sales Manager Bott:

"We forecast a spring upturn in our steel business starting about March 1."

"Several of our markets look good to strong for the rest of the year—agricultural and construction, for example."

"And the markets dealing with energy-related industries are very promising—such things as oil-country tubular goods, gas transmission lines, and storage tanks."

"Transportation also looks strong, including such industries as railroad car building, ship and barge building, and heavy truck manufacturing."

"After the second quarter upturn, we look for a continuation of this trend in the third quarter of 1980, before a possible leveling-off in the fourth quarter."

"If I had to make a guess, I would say that total tons of shipments from Granite City Steel in 1980 may come close to our total in 1979."

"If you keep in mind that 1979 should be our biggest year in history in order bookings and shipments, that's not too bad."

Stack concluded his remarks by calling for renewed efforts.

He said, "Let's all do our best in the three or four months just ahead, and then go all-out for a strong finish in 1980."

Anti-nuclear fund 'party'

The National Town Meeting (NTM) organization at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville has announced plans to sponsor a benefit party for "a nuclear-free future."

The event is scheduled to begin at 6 p.m. Sunday, Dec. 2, at the Slaggar Inn in Edwardsville.

A spokesman for the organization said the program is designed "to raise both awareness and money for the anti-nuclear cause." Literature will be available free of charge at the door. General admission is $2.

Live music will be provided by Jake's Leg, a rock band from St. Louis; Earwacks, a jazz band from St. Louis; Stan Meeks of Edwardsville on jazz piano; and Joint Effort, an Edwardsville rock group.

Also featured will be the Gorilla Theater Company of Edwardsville, performing light entertainment relating to the nuclear issue.

The NTM spokesman said all proceeds from the event will go toward financing future anti-nuclear power activity.

Sanitary district to reorganize

The annual reorganization meeting of the five-man board of trustees of the Metro-East Sanitary District will be held Monday at the district offices in Washington Park.

Several sources reported an effort will be made to unseat Russell Robinson of Granite City as board president, although no open opposition to Robinson has been apparent in recent meetings.

Robinson has been president for the past three years.

Actually, the board will hold its reorganization session with only four members since the term of John Erhardt of Washington Park expires Monday, and the St. Clair County Board has not yet made an appointment to fill that spot.

The board now consists of three Madison County members, Robinson, Walter Greathouse and David Bergfield, and two St. Clair County members, Omer Brummitt of Cahokia and Erhardt.

The board also is scheduled to meet Friday for further discussion of plans to turn over the $2 million repair job on the main sanitary line of the Cahokia trunk sewer which is broken in several places.

The work would be turned over to another sponsor, probably the village of Sauget, because the district does not have enough money to finance its share of the work.

STREET CLOSING

Twenty-first Street will be closed in the vicinity of Granite City Steel for five days next week to permit the company to erect steel structural supports for a new high pressure line that will cross the roadway. The street will be closed Monday through Dec. 3, Twenty-first Street will be closed the following week Dec. 10 through 14 for the same purpose.

Attorney sought on warrant

A warrant was issued at 9:30 a.m. yesterday for the arrest of Attorney Terryl W. Francis, whose office is at 2750 Madison Ave., on a battery complaint.

The complaint was signed by Norma Koesterer, a real estate agent for Brown Realty, who alleges Francis struck her while in First Granite City National Bank Nov. 15, grabbed a real estate warrant deed from her and tore the deed up.

She said she and Francis were closing a real estate sale at the bank's loan department when Francis allegedly became angry, grabbed the deed from a loan officer and walked toward the door of the bank.

Norma Koesterer said she grabbed the deed from him and alleged he struck her right shoulder with a fist and tore up the deed.

She signed a complaint against him and Circuit Judge Charles Chapman issued a warrant for Francis' arrest at 9:30 a.m. Wednesday. He has not been taken into custody, police said this morning.

The warrant sets bond at $2,500.

City-operated cable TV called advantageous to Madisonians

Following a detailed report submitted by Aldermen Tom Gordon and William Gushleff, the Madison City Council on Tuesday night decided to continue to investigate the feasibility of a city-operated cable television system.

Gordon said, "After spending time this weekend in Valparaiso, Fla., I feel this project should be pursued." Bill (Alderman Gushleff) and I feel it would be beneficial to both the city and the residents if we could go to our own system.

"We will proceed with this, and I will appoint a committee of citizens to work with the council for further study. We'll get some input from the residents. I feel there is real potential in this project," Mayor Mike Sasyk said.

Text of the report submitted to the City Council by the two aldermen is as follows:

"The city of Valparaiso, Fla., is located approximately 50 miles east of Pensacola and has a population of approximately 5,500 people. The city could be classified as a stable, middle-class community with a mayor-commissioner form of government.

"The city has had cable TV service since 1966. As with other communities in the area, cable TV was installed due to their distance from a major metropolitan area. The cable TV afforded them better reception, more channels, and alleviated the problem of having to install expensive antennas for good reception.

"In 1975, the city decided to implement its own program for providing cable TV as a public service to its citizens. Some of the rationale behind the decision was as follows:

1. "They were receiving bad service from the private franchise company.

2. "They felt that they needed to have more control over the rates that were charged.

3. "They felt that they could offer the citizens more for less money.

4. "The private franchise would not commit itself to the future need as outlined by the city government.

"In general, the city felt that the private franchise was insensitive to the needs of the community.

"In preliminary action, the city formed a long-range planning committee, made up of their city commissioners and several private citizens. As a result, they hired a director (Tom Miller), who had a background in electronics and had designed and implemented other cable TV systems.

"The director proceeded by developing a strand map of the community. He designed the system and developed specifications for soliciting bids from various cable TV equipment manufacturers.

"Other preliminary action was to notify the Federal Communications Commission as to their interest in installing cable TV equipment and contacting the local utility for hanging wire on the existing telephone poles. The system was designed so that future needs could be met with a minimum of expense.

"The decision was made to proceed with implementation of their own cable TV network. Scientific Atlanta was chosen as the electronic manufacturer to furnish the necessary equipment.

"The system was designed as a turnkey operation, with the equipment assembled and tested at the factory. A concrete block building was constructed containing 400 square feet. This is termed the 'head end.'

"Also constructed at this same site was a 300-ft. antenna tower and a 5-meter earth station to receive microwave from the earth satellite. A contractor was selected for hanging the actual cable and installing the head end.

"It was necessary to expedite the construction because there were only 90 days left until the expiration of their current franchise contract. After the initial installation, all home hookups were made by city employees.

"To finance the project, money was borrowed from the municipality at six percent interest. The cost for building and installing the network was approximately $250,000. This included the cost of the head end, electrical equipment, antenna tower, electrical cable, earth station and other miscellaneous items.

"It was noted that equipment costs have decreased tremendously since the original installation. This is largely due to more advanced technology.

"Upon completion, the system provided a two-way active, 35-channel network, providing service to 1,100 subscribers. Two fulltime employees are utilized to maintain the system. This includes new installations, repairs, etc. One part-time employee is utilized for record-keeping and secretarial duties.

"The city officials of Valparaiso are well pleased with the installation and success they have experienced thus far. They are presently investigating an electronically-monitored alarm system for police, fire and medical. This system can be integrated into their present cable TV network.

"Based on their experience, they made several suggestions we might want to consider.

1. "Conduct a survey to determine the interest of our citizens.

2. "Install the cable TV system first and allow for the addition of the alarm system at a later date. They sighted initial cost and varied equipment considerations as reasons for not installing both at the same time.

3. "They suggested staying away from local telecasting, indicating that it does not pay. Special equipment and expertise are needed in this area.

4. "Give considerations, Tom Miller, indicated that he would be available for consultation and assistance on a contractual basis. He would be acting on an individual basis, independent of the city of Valparaiso.

"Due to the Thanksgiving holiday and the weekend, we were unable to obtain the financial information regarding the day-to-day operation of the system. The mayor indicated, however, that the fiscal year-end reports would be available early next week and that a copy would be forwarded to us.

"Other comments:

1. "With revenue derived from the operation of the system, they were able to pay off the original loan in 3 1/2 years.

2. "There is a possibility of writing a good contract with a private company. It could be profitable if we are very careful. This is pretty much a bartering-type process.

3. "Check the background and stockholders of a private franchise. If the majority of the stockholders are lawyers, forget it. These companies are usually formed and put into operation and then sold to another investor.

4. "Stress the alarm system as a primary motivation for installing the cable system, since we are in a major metropolitan area with adequate TV coverage. This is not to say that the additional sports, movie and educational stations are not a valid selling point.

5. "Investigate the TOCOM (Total Communications System) which would be used to implement the alarm system.

6. "An override of the audio portion of the system can be used for civil defense.

7. "There are contracts to be entered into and charges for use of the satellite stations. These charges are regulated by the FCC and based on the number of subscribers to the service.

8. "Keep the public informed as we continue our investigation into the cable TV system.

9. "Don't design the cheapest system. Install a dependable system with future expansion in mind.

10. "Installation of the alarm system could reduce insurance rates."

Xourse on 'children and death'

"Children and Death" (HUM 450), a new course dealing with death, dying and bereavement in childhood and adolescence, will be offered at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville during the winter quarter.

The course will include a discussion of children's concepts and attitudes about death, methods and materials for death education, strategies for counseling, and ethical dimensions.

Charles A. Corr, professor of humanities at SIUE, will teach the course. He has taught a course on "Death and Dying" at the university since the fall of 1975. He also has conducted many workshops on the care of the dying person and has contributed to books dealing with death.

Corr recently returned from a two-week work-study program at St. Luke's Hospital, a leading hospice unit in Sheffield, England. He and his wife, a registered nurse, worked at St. Luke's for 10 weeks during the summer of 1978.

"Children and Death" will be taught on Tuesday and Thursday afternoons from 2:30 to 4:30. The course is particularly recommended for care givers, including nurses, clinical psychologists, social workers, the clergy and funeral directors, and for professional educators at all levels, parents and prospective parents.

Congressman John B. Anderson, Republican of Illinois, is running second among Republican presidential candidates in Chicago, a Channel 7, WLS poll shows.

Former Governor Richard B. Ogilvie, chairman of the Illinois Anderson for President steering committee, said, "We are making real progress. People are beginning to perceive that John Anderson is the issue-oriented candidate, and that he is the one Republican who will be able to form a new majority and win in 1980."

The poll, conducted by Teichner and Associated the weekend of Nov. 3, shows Anderson running second only to Ronald Reagan in Chicago, and third to Reagan and John Connally in the Chicago metropolitan area. The findings were based on telephone calls to 400 "scientifically selected homes" in the Chicago metropolitan area.

Hurt in purse snatching try

Mrs. Frances Martin, 57, of 2022 Cleveland Blvd., was injured when a teenager attacked her, attempting to steal her purse, while she was walking on 20th Street between Cleveland and Delmar boulevards about 10 a.m. Tuesday.

Mrs. Martin said the teen tried to grab the purse and when she resisted, he struck her left cheek with a fist. She said she kicked him and he punched her right side, knocking her down. The boy fled, without the purse, south in the alley.

He was described as "very dirty looking," about 15 to 16 years old, slender, about 5 feet, 5 inches tall and having long stringy hair.

Mrs. Martin went to St. Elizabeth Medical Center where she was treated for redness in the areas where she was punched and she was released.

Protection against rape is club topic

Madison Police Detective Paul Bargiel spoke to the Madison Chapter of the Future Secretaries Association on how to protect oneself against a rapist.

Bargiel, who also is a member of the Madison Board of Education, was introduced by Brenda Walker, vice-president of the group.

Bargiel pointed out that most rapists have other problems that cause them to want to attack a woman. He noted in most cases they harm their victim in other ways and that the psychological effect on the victim is often greater than the physical effect.

He said, "If you are in an area where you are alone and cannot get help, you should try to keep from making the attacker mad for fear of unusual abuse and one should make sure that windows and doors at home are secured at all times, never shop alone, check the back seat of your car before getting into the car and stay in your car if it breaks down and you must wait for help."

Bargiel urged the members to report all attacks and not be fearful of any questions that might be asked by the police, hospital staff or others connected with agencies who try to be of help.

The speaker advised the members they should not do anything to destroy materials that could be used as evidence such as: bath, wash hands, clean nails, change clothes or brush clothes.

He noted a victim must be able to prove she was attacked.

Sleigh rides across the Mississippi on Christmas Day a century ago

Illinois State Historical Society
 Illinoisans celebrated Christmas 1879 in a traditional manner that had been developing over the previous fifty years. The Springfield Daily State Journal called it a "day of rest and domestic enjoyment."

Churches all over the state were crowded, as were the theaters. But there was no special "observance of the day at the hotels" because many hotel residents were dinner guests of friends.

The Christmas Day "bill of fare" for the 37 prisoners in the Sangamon County jail "included roast pig, turkey, oysters and all of the delicacies"; their letter of "thanks to the jailkeeper and his wife was published."

The custom of companies presenting turkeys and cigars to their employees was continued, particularly in Rock Island. The Daily Argus reported, however, there were variations in the pattern.

One firm gave a turkey and a box of cigars to each man while another gave turkeys to the married men and only cigars to the unmarried men, whether or not they smoked.

Churches and other charitable groups had in addition to their ranks that year: "The Two-bit Boom," sponsored by the Springfield Journal. Contributions of 25 cents each totaled about $200 and were distributed to the needy by the Ladies' Benevolent Society.

The state's weather during that Christmas season was more than unpleasant. There was a widespread ice storm on Dec. 23, followed by bitter cold.

The Rock Island temperature at 8 a.m. Christmas Day was 20 below zero; a sleigh ride across the Mississippi to Davenport on the ice cost 10 cents.

The Springfield Journal asked, "Why should you patronize a merchant who fails to sprinkle ashes on the pavement before his store?" The weather had no effect on Christmas sales, however, and the Chicago Evening Journal said, "The holiday trade of the present season in this city is unprecedented."

Similar reports appeared in other papers.

Business was suspended entirely for the day except for the post offices, most of which were open until 10 a.m. In Chicago, the carriers made one delivery and one mail pickup. In his story of business closings, the reporter for the Chicago Evening Journal could not resist the temptation to write, "The Board of Trade will not be bored by trade."

Although Christmas was naturally the most important event of the month, a check of newspaper files in the Illinois State Historical Library here reveals other interesting happenings. The most spectacular was the explosion of the boiler of the Aetna flour mill in downtown Springfield at 9:30 a.m. on Dec. 29.

The mill was located in the middle of the block immediately to the southeast of the present-day Old State Capitol. But the major damage was to buildings to the east, south and west. The blast was felt for a mile in all directions — workers in the Statehouse seven blocks away "imagined that the dome had fallen."

The boiler was five feet in diameter, 16 feet long, and contained 52 four-inch pipes. These and other pieces of machinery, bricks, timbers, and the tin roof were hurled as far as several blocks.

Boiler tubes weighing 400 to 500 pounds landed in the street in front of the post office, "spattering the building with mud up to the third story." Other pieces went through the roofs and top floors of three-story buildings.

Most of the windows in the adjoining blocks were broken. In some, the sashes were also carried away and many store doors were blown off by the concussion. Miraculously, there was only one fatality: the body of the mill engineer was found in the ruins — his hat was on the top of a building two blocks away.

Gen. Ulysses S. Grant stopped in Chicago for several days in early December en route to visit his mother in Jersey City and friends in Philadelphia and Washington. There were no reunions or dinners such as were held on his visit a month earlier. Thomas A. Edison's demonstration of his electric light at his Menlo Park, N.J., home Dec. 23 caused a stir in Illinois papers. Dire predictions were made for manufacturers of gas pipe and lighting fixtures. Chicago's gas street lights were then being lighted at 4:40 p.m. and extinguished at 10 p.m.

Dunn named vice-president

Promotions of two men to higher management positions have been announced by Granite City Steel, effective Dec. 1.

Lawrence P. Dunn, assistant controller, will become vice-president and controller of the GC Steel Division of National Steel Corporation, succeeding Eugene L. West Sr., who advances to the Weirton Steel Division as controller.

On the same date, James R. Hellwig will be promoted to assistant controller here. Dunn received his bachelor's degree in mechanical engineering and a master's degree in management science at the University of Southern California.

After serving with several other companies as a consultant, financial and systems analyst following graduation, he joined Granite City Steel in 1974 as a staff consultant, economic evaluation and forecasting. He advanced to manager financial planning in 1975; to manager general accounting in 1977; and to assistant controller in November 1977. Hellwig received his bachelor's degree in business administration at the University of Missouri, Columbia, and did graduate work in business administration at St. Louis University.

LAWRENCE P. DUNN

After serving with another firm as area cost accountant and senior financial accountant, he joined Granite City Steel in 1972 as accountant. Hellwig advanced to various positions in the financial department, including manager — cost accounting; manager — financial planning; and manager — general accounting in February 1978.

State 161 years old on Dec. 3

Declaring that "the history of Illinois remains a lively concern of its citizens" as reflected by the "thousands of Illinoisans who actively participate in the cause of history in their community and in their state," Gov. James R. Thompson has proclaimed Nov. 26 through Dec. 3 as Illinois History Week. The proclamation also designates Monday, Dec. 3, as Statehood Day—the 161st anniversary of the date Illinois entered the union.

Thompson noted the "growing membership of the Congress of Illinois Historical Societies and Museums—an association of local historical societies, agencies, and museums throughout the state sponsored by our Illinois State Historical Society."

The 155 local, regional, ethnic, and special subject historical groups that make up the Congress, he said, "eloquently demonstrate a strong grassroots support for the collection, preservation, and dissemination of the history of Illinois and its peoples."

The proclamation was issued, Thompson said, "to recognize this coalition of amateur and professional historical organizations and to focus the attention of all our citizens on the great history of Illinois."

The governor admonished Illinoisans "to study our state's history and to support their local historical society, agency or museum."

To help interested organizations observe Illinois history, the Illinois State Historical Society has prepared a limited number of Illinois History Week kits.

Each free kit includes a copy of the proclamation, a brochure with program ideas, and a poster.

Anyone wishing a copy of the brochure "Making History in Illinois," the 1634 inch poster, and a copy of the proclamation may write: Illinois History Week, Old State Capitol, Springfield 62706, according to Blanche Burgess, executive secretary of the Congress. The phone number is 217-782-4836.

500 tons of steel being recovered daily from trash

Over 500 tons of iron and steel are being magnetically recovered from the nation's garbage each day, according to a report Wednesday by the Committee of Tin Mill Products Producers of the American Iron and Steel Institute.

Most of that iron and steel is composed of food and beverage cans, of which approximately eight million are reclaimed daily for recycling at 77 of the nation's municipal resource recovery systems.

The report, entitled "Solid Waste Processing Facilities," covers the status of the 231 recovery systems (as of July 1, 1979).

According to the report, 56 systems are currently in operation, and another 175 are under construction, or in planning. Of the plants in operation, 27 are actively recovering steel, and another 17 have the capability of magnetic separation.

The report found that 27 systems are able to convert garbage into some form of usable energy, usually steam or a powdered fuel which can be burned in utility boilers to generate electricity.

"While the use of garbage as a fuel won't solve all of our energy problems, it will help and also go a long way toward solving the growing problems of solid waste disposal for many communities," Kinsey, president of resource Technology Corporation, the consulting firm which prepared the report, said.

"In addition to providing direct fuel savings, resource recovery offers important indirect energy savings by recovery of solid materials such as steel for recycling," said Thomas Willson, senior vice-president of American Iron and Steel Institute.

"If all of the steel food and beverage cans used in the United States each year were recycled, over 80 trillion BTUs of energy would be conserved. That's equivalent to the amount of energy required to heat three-quarters of a million average homes for a year."

Willson also noted there are still some problems in marketing recovered energy and materials because some of the products of resource recovery systems fail to meet the specifications of the buyers.

Recovered steel cans, for example, must meet standards of physical form, particle size, cleanliness, and bulk density. Only when the buyer specifications are met does the specific component of municipal solid waste become a salable commodity.

The report points out that in 1979, new resource recovery systems which will incorporate magnetic separation of steel cans have begun operations in such cities as Akron, Ohio; Springfield, Conn.; Hempstead, N.Y.; and Rochester (Monroe County), N.Y.

Smaller cities recovering energy and steel, such as Ames, Iowa, a Pueblo, Colo. are also covered.

The report projects a future of growth for steel recovery from municipal garbage.

"Of the 175 recovery systems in planning or under construction, virtually all are expected to recover steel cans and other ferrous scrap for recycling," Kinsey said.

tailed that there were locks on all three switch boxes and that he was not aware the switches were not protected.

Portell said he had been told that approximately $100,000 in Community Development block grant funds were available, part of it that could be earmarked for the Faith-Marshall repair job.

Mayor Paul Schuler said he is looking into the availability of these funds and his office already has started the paperwork required to obtain authorization of the project.

Sewer repair ordered

Temporary repairs to a broken sanitary sewer line at Faith and Marshall avenues were ordered by the Granite City Council Tuesday night in an effort to solve a problem of home flooding by backed-up sewer lines.

Lionel Portell, city street superintendent, told the aldermen that repairs to the sewer line at Faith and Marshall can be repaired completely at a cost now estimated at $65,000.

"These kind of repairs are only piecemeal at best and the only way we are going to solve the problem is to repair the breaks," Portell said. "Right now we have three or four bad breaks and they are going to have to be fixed."

Several aldermen noted that the council approved an appropriation of $2,200 several months ago to permit temporary repairs in the Faith and Marshall area, but that nothing has been done about it. Portell replied that his department was unable to obtain the necessary pipe at that time, but the pipe did become available about a week and a half ago.

The decision to go ahead with temporary repairs was reached after a complaint by Mr. and Mrs. Paul Dittamore, 284 Wayne Ave., that their basement was flooded by raw sewage on several occasions. Such a situation occurred earlier this week, Mr. and Mrs. Dittamore said in a letter to the council.

They said sewage backs into their home when pumps operated by a series of three switches are shut off. The letter said two of the locks were off the switch boxes when the flooding occurred last week. Portell maintained that there were locks on all three switch boxes and that he was not aware the switches were not protected.

Portell said he had been told that approximately $100,000 in Community Development block grant funds were available, part of it that could be earmarked for the Faith-Marshall repair job.

Mayor Paul Schuler said he is looking into the availability of these funds and his office already has started the paperwork required to obtain authorization of the project.

Madison County Circuit Court ruling which gave a $29,602 pension award and an additional $29,602 pension payment to William Patterson, a former Granite City fireman now retired on disability pension, has been reversed by the Fifth District Appellate Court, the Granite City Council was informed Tuesday night.

Irvine Slate Jr., assistant city attorney, said the ruling in circuit court meant that Patterson would have received full salary as pension plus the $29,602 accumulated pension that developed over the period the case has been in litigation.

Slate told the aldermen the appellate court ruling would mean the city will not have to pay the accumulated award plus the additional monthly pension.

Patterson receives his current disability pension from the Firemen's Pension Board and the regular firemen's pension fund. However, any additional funds he would have received under the circuit court ruling would have to be paid out of city general funds.

Patterson suffered a back injury December 1980 and has been retired on pension since that time.

Kiwanis backs help cards

The Granite City Evening Kiwanis Club voted Tuesday evening to give its financial support to a program to supply bright, reflective "Send Help" cards to area residents.

The organization was the first service club in the Quad-City area to go on record as participating in the program, which is designed to protect motorists, particularly women in stalled autos, from the danger of rape, robbery and kidnapping.

In other areas, including St. Louis, the bright send help signs, put in the windows of a disabled vehicle, have been very successful in deterring the proper kinds of help to motorists, while discouraging criminals, according to police officials.

All service clubs in the Quad-City area have been requested to participate in offsetting the cost of printing and distributing the cards, which are being prepared by the Madison County Circuit Court.

Pension order is reversed

A Madison County Circuit Court ruling which gave a $29,602 pension award and an additional $29,602 pension payment to William Patterson, a former Granite City fireman now retired on disability pension, has been reversed by the Fifth District Appellate Court, the Granite City Council was informed Tuesday night.

Anniversary celebration of St. Gregory's Church

by DONNA HARTWICK
of the Press-Record

Old customs, culture and religious beliefs are kept alive and taught to the young people of Armenian descent primarily by the church and church-affiliated organizations and in this area by St. Gregory the Illuminator Armenian Apostolic Church.

To mark the concentrated efforts of the Armenian people in the area a silver-anniversary celebration of the Consecration of St. Gregory's Church will be observed Sunday.

The church, with 125 families registered in the congregation, religious dignitaries and leaders will begin the event with worship services at 10 a.m. Sunday at the church located at 1732 Maple St.

Highlight of the 25th anniversary date will be the arrival of His Grace Bishop Mesrob Ashjian of New York City, Prelate of the Armenian Apostolic Church of America. The bishop and the Rev. Khoren Habeshian, pastor of the local parish, will officiate the Divine Liturgy at the Sunday morning service.

After the service, all Armenian parishioners of Metropolitan St. Louis with honored guests will meet in the auditorium at the Granite City Township Hall, 2000 Delmar Ave., at 2 p.m. for a ceremonial dinner honoring the anniversary observance.

Featured speakers for the day will be Bishop Ashjian and Dr. Richard G. Hovannisian, professor of Armenian and Near-Eastern History at the University of California, Los Angeles.

Dr. Hovannisian is a renowned lecturer and author of two books, "Armenia on the Road to Independence, 1918" and "The Republic of Armenia," according to Nelle Bogosian, member of the anniversary committee.

Three far-sighted men, Malek Hagopian, Sooren Hagopian and Samson Safarian, all now deceased, were instrumental in generating community interest in the establishment of an Armenian church, some 30 years ago.

They led community meetings, fund raising campaigns and with money raised by YEPRAD acting group compiled enough funds for a down payment on a Bulgarian Orthodox Church building at the Maple Street address.

The Bulgarian Church was the oldest Bulgarian Church in America. After the purchase the congregation banded together to transform the structure into an Armenian Church.

On Dec. 4, 1954, St. Gregory the Illuminator Armenian Apostolic Church was consecrated by The Rev. Kourken Koudoulian of Philadelphia and The Rev. Ghévont Khosrovian of Chicago.

Garabed Markarian and Arsen Halajian became the Godfathers of the Church, the former in naming the church and the latter in ribbon cutting ceremonies. Pastors who have served the community are, The Rev. Eghishe Gasparian, 1956-1959; The Rev. Gorun Shrikian, 1959-1965; The Rev. Zareh Maronian, 1965-1967; The Rev. Movses Shrikian, 1967-1969; and The Rev. Khoren Habeshian, 1969 to the present.

Organizations affiliated with the church include the choir, Sunday School, Ladies' Guild, Mr. and Mrs. Club, and the Mesrobian Armenian School. They are busy active and contribute to all church programs in their respective capacity.

Mrs. Robert (Mary) Parsagian serves as president of the Ladies' Guild, and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Bedian head the Mr. and Mrs. Club.

The latter organization is an active group of couples who strive to sponsor and raise projects and programs to assist the church on a financial basis as well as hosting social functions for the members.

The choir and Armenian Youth Federation also are a main artery of the church. The youth group was organized in 1933 in Granite City, and continues to meet here to continue the study of their culture, history and religious concepts.

A weekly school is conducted for Armenian children from the age of 6 and older. They are taught the language, history of their ancestors, religion and cultural identity as well as learning dances native to Armenia.

The Rev. Habeshian came to the local church from Beirut, Lebanon, 10 years ago and was ordained at St. Gregory's. He will celebrate his 10th anniversary in the ministry on the following Sunday, Dec. 9.

He and his wife, Berjouli, have two children. A son Vahé, 19, is attending St. Louis University on a scholarship and was graduated from Granite City High School South with honors. Their daughter, Maral, 16, is currently attending South High School.

The Rev. Habeshian speaks fluent French, Arabic, Armenian and English and was a high school teacher in Beirut.

Since there are few Armenian Churches in this country, The Rev.

Habeshian is required to travel great distances to perform special religious services to members who reside as far away as Oklahoma, Missouri, Indiana and northern Illinois.

A new Armenian Church was consecrated in Fairview Heights about a year ago. Other than the new church the nearest Armenian churches are in Chicago, Detroit, Mich., and Racine, Wis.

The present Board of Trustees are Vasken A. Haronian, chairman; Arthur Bedian, secretary; Michael Hagopian, treasurer; Malcom Torosian, Rose Torosian, Andrew Hagopian, Edward Asadorian, Leo Manogian, Van Tatiosian and Rev. Habeshian.

To continue its progressive role to the board of trustees as always in the past only men were elected to serve and Mrs. Rose Torosian is the first woman elected to represent the congregation in that capacity.

To continue its progressive programs St. Gregory Church purchased five acres of land in 1974. Various committees have been formed to implement construction plans. The initial phase includes a hall large enough to seat 500 at a dinner and provide meeting and class rooms, and kitchen facilities. The second phase is for the construction of a church and parsonage.

Trees, shrubs, picnic area and parking lots will be added to augment the church and parsonage.

A $75,000 lawsuit has been filed in Madison County Circuit Court against Glenn Wright on behalf of a boy who was burned Jan. 5, 1978, in a fire in an apartment Wright owns at 2020 Grand Ave.

The suit alleges Lonnie Gordon, a minor, was burned and otherwise injured when a fire was started by allegedly inadequate wiring and too large an electrical fuse on the electrical line to a space heater in the building. Lack of a smoke alarm to alert the tenants of the building also is alleged.

The suit was filed by the boy's mother, Peggy Gordon.

Third guilty plea in stabbing of man

The third suspect in the stabbing of John O. Schooley, 24, of Granite City, in the parking lot of Charlie's Restaurant July 21 pleaded guilty Monday to aggravated battery.

John E. Ashburn, 26, of the 200 block of Warsaw Lane, Mitchell, entered his plea in Madison County Circuit Court at Edwardsville, just as jury selection was about to begin in his scheduled trial for armed violence and attempted murder in connection with the case.

Authorities indicated the plea was in return for promises by the state's attorney's office that a sentence recommendation of seven years in prison will be made to the court. Judge Victor J. Mosele set sentencing for Dec. 28, after a pre-sentence investigation is completed.

There also were indications the judge may be asked to assign Ashburn to a different correctional facility than Menard Penitentiary, where the other two defendants in the case have been sentenced. Larry Eugene McKenzie, 28, Highland, a former Granite City resident, has been sentenced to serve seven years in prison and Dennis McIntosh, 27, French Village, was ordered to serve five years. Both pleaded guilty to aggravated battery for allegedly stabbing Schooley.

Schooley said he had just gotten out of his car in the parking lot of Charlie's Restaurant when three men in another car yelled at him. A few words were exchanged. When Schooley walked toward the restaurant entrance, the three allegedly jumped on him and stabbed him repeatedly.

He was in critical condition for days with five stab wounds to his neck and body. His father, Attorney William Schooley of Granite City, filed a lawsuit in Madison County Circuit Court last week on behalf of his son and against the owner and operators of the Batistie, a tavern at 1316 Madison Ave., Madison, alleging McKenzie, McIntosh and Ashburn had been served alcoholic drinks in the Batistie before the stabbing.

The suit seeks $125,000 from Norman Moerlen, as owner of the building which houses the Batistie, and another $125,000 from Dale Martin and Wayne Gunan, as operators of the establishment. It alleges that those involved in the stabbing were allowed to become intoxicated in the tavern, entitling the younger Schooley to compensation under the Dram Shop Act.

Records show that McKenzie was on parole when the stabbing occurred, having been released by the Department of Corrections in August 1978. He had served two concurrent one-to-three-year prison terms after pleading guilty to drug charges stemming from a March 1976 drug arrest and was released prior to April 1977, when he was arrested during another drug sweep and charged again with delivery of a controlled substance, it is alleged.

Another one-to-three-year sentence was assessed and he was returned to prison, only to be released in August 1978. Ashburn was not on parole but has a police record, authorities said. He was charged with three counts of armed robbery in December 1974 after three men in an auto stopped to pick up a hitchhiker, who directed them to a Mitchell home. There, a second man joined the hitchhiker. They then went to the levee where a knife was displayed and the wallets and cash were stolen from the three victims, records allege.

The three charges were dismissed Nov. 26, 1975, because the victims were unavailable to testify. Ashburn served a one-to-three-year prison sentence imposed Aug. 27, 1976, after he was convicted of armed violence and aggravated battery in connection with the terrorizing of a Granite City couple in the couple's home in the 3000 block of Bryan Avenue March 31, 1976.

The victims said they were awakened about midnight by a knock on their front door. When the husband opened the door, he was struck on the head and knuckled against a wall. Two men entered, one carrying a rifle, and beat him, threatening to kill him, records show. One man wore brass knuckles during the beating, police were told.

The woman said the gun was aimed at her and she was told to lie still in bed during the beating.

Ashburn was arrested in connection with that incident and officers allege he aimed a saved-off shotgun at two policemen who came to his door to arrest him. There was a brief "stand-off" as Ashburn allegedly refused to drop his gun unless officers dropped theirs, it was related, but Ashburn eventually surrendered.

McIntosh was arrested once in Granite City. He allegedly stole a wheelchair from St. Elizabeth Medical Center in June 1979, and was charged with a felony count of theft. That charge, however, was dismissed

Separation of part of the Army base's property for industrial development is a highly constructive step

Who will develop industrial sites at the Granite City Army base, the former Depot now serving as a support center for Department of Defense programs in the St. Louis metropolitan area?

It is an important question, and one that must be dealt with promptly. A Dec. 14 deadline has been set by the Federal Government's General Services Administration.

But Granite City's people meanwhile will not lose sight of the fact that a major victory has been achieved: Somebody will be able to develop the southern portion of the military installation, the part no longer needed by Uncle Sam.

That statement alone could not be made for many years, even though it has been apparent for some time that the Army could give up property here without impeding its mission.

Thanks to the efforts of Congressman Melvin Price and others, that hurdle now has been cleared. The Army has agreed to sell the Depot has been declared surplus, and is now available to the cities of Granite City, Venice and Madison and to the Tri-County Regional Port District, a state-created agency governed by local commissioners (state and municipal appointees).

The Federal Property Resources Service's acting director of the Real Property Division, Dennis R. Spearman, notified Granite City in a letter received Tuesday that a $2,980,000 price has been established for a 276-acre area that includes three warehouses, four open-sided sheds, a frame storage building, five metal storage structures, utilities, roads and railroad trackage.

Spearman asked that "the three cities and the Port District decide which of these public bodies will purchase the property." The purchaser is to install fencing, construct patrol roads, build a gate house and separate all utilities serving the tract from those serving the Support Center.

The buyer also is to move 48,000 tons of metals and 600,000 tons of bauxite from the center of the surplus tract and place the materials within a contiguous ten-acre site. A reasonable deduction (determined by the GSA) from the $2,980,000 price tag will be made for the cost of relocating the bauxite and metals.

Subject to payment of funds and a review by the governmental operations committees of the U.S. House and Senate, the public agency acquiring the potential industrial site will be issued title to the property.

While it might be simpler for a single governmental body to proceed with the project, there also may be local discussion of multiple or joint proposals.

In any event, securing of financial assistance is a big part of the plan of establishing an industrial park. It will be highly helpful if manufacturing concerns take an interest in what is available and speak up quickly so that precise plans can be made and carried out.

Under the concept outlined to the Granite City Board of Realtors Nov. 21, long-term leases can be drawn up utilizing a variety of terms, with agreements tailored to meet the needs of businesses, including building modifications, provision of office space, and financing of equipment and improvements.

Hospital cost plan would have created a 'monstrosity'

Comment by Washington Report—There is deeper significance to the president's much ballyhooed defeat in the House over the hospital cost-containment legislation than Carter critics' charges of political naivete for attempting to ram through a bill against the will of Congress.

House Speaker Carl Albert (D-Mont.) warned the White House beforehand that the votes simply were not there. Hurried, last-minute phone calls by the president to selected members were to no avail, and even the speaker's personal plea to his colleagues not to embarrass Mr. Carter had little impact on the final outcome.

Politics aside, the administration missed the point entirely. Congress gauged the current mood of the American people and decided that the public is strongly against any new bureaucracy or regulation.

Carter spokesman Jody Powell bitterly called the vote "a blow to the fight against inflation" and "old newsmen's reaction was 'unprintable.'" He characterized the House action as "a victory for a highly financed special interest lobby and a defeat for the common good." There seems to be a difference of opinion between Powell and Congress about what the common good entails.

Conceding the unpopularity of any new government regulation, the days' proponents of the measure forged ahead, arguing that market forces have been unable to hold down prices in the hospital industry, and regulation is the only answer.

That argument was overwhelmingly rejected. As Cong. Robert Michel (R-Ill.) asserted, "This bill creates a bureaucratic monstrosity, and you all know it."

Full-fledged test for County Board salary method

Comment by Alton Telegraph—Though the county has had a halfway chance to observe, through a hybrid program, the relative merits of per diem vs. the regular salary method of compensating board members, now it will get a chance to look at the salary system on a 100 per cent basis.

For years, board members have been criticized for the frequency of their committee meetings in what the public believed was an attempt to bolster their income. On a straight salary basis, this suspicion no longer will have a base.

One of the strong suspicions of yesterday was that the board chairman used his committee appointive power to control the board—rewarding "obedient" members by appointments on committees which met frequently. Now that, too, goes out the window.

An additional argument for the salary system was voiced at the County Board meeting where the decision to go all the way was made: The board now can estimate more closely what the services of the legislative body will cost, with all members on straight salary rather than a piecemeal basis.

Voters, themselves, should have better reason to judge members elected to the board on their performance, since all are to be rewarded with equal salaries.

As Coffey member James Heil remarked, board members are frequently called upon to perform services far beyond the areas of time formerly spent in committee meetings. And they should be, if they pay proper attention to their responsibilities of learning what those they represent think.

Electric, gas increases

The Illinois Commerce Commission yesterday granted a $62.6 million annual rate increase to Illinois Power Co., including an 11 percent hike in electric rates and a 10 percent increase in gas rates (changing a typical residential customer's monthly bill from $24 to $27.50) and a 6.6 percent boost in natural gas rates (changing a gas customer's $41 bill to $45).

The utility, serving 503,000 with electricity and 372,000 with gas in eastern, central and southwestern Illinois, had sought 14 and 6.8 percent increases for an added $92 million.

A major point of controversy during the 11-month deliberations was inclusion in the rate base of part of the cost of building a new nuclear power production plant at Clinton. The state allowed $97 million of this cost instead of the $240 million sought.

Department can upgrade schools

To the Editor: The formation of the United States Department of Education marks the culmination of a 112-year struggle by teachers to elevate education to a position of national prominence.

We welcome this new addition to President Jimmy Carter's cabinet of advisors and we welcome the opportunities it can provide teachers and school officials to improve education.

As one of 13 cabinet members, the education secretary can command the attention of the nation to air educational accomplishments and problems.

The secretary will be the one visible person directly responsible for federal responsiveness to local educational needs and efficient delivery of federal services to individual school districts.

For the first time ever, educators will have direct access to the White House to articulate their needs.

The new department will remove educational concerns from the old Health, Education and Welfare (HEW) maze that engulfed education between health and welfare concerns.

Education needs a top priority ranking to accomplish the goals that our nation seeks, and the new department status is a step in the right direction.

The National Education Association (NEA), the Illinois Education Association (IEA), other state affiliates, and President Carter and Vice President Walter Mondale were joined in the campaign by the National Parent-Teacher Association, the National School Boards Association, the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees and nearly 100 other organizations touching the lives of a majority of our citizens in some manner.

The new education department will further enhance the reality of local control of our schools. The law creating the department specifically protects the rights of states and local governments to determine their own educational needs and policies, and it prohibits federal intrusion into state and local control of education in the classroom.

Teachers, students and parents are the glib winners in the legislation creating the department, which consolidates 170 educational programs formerly scattered all over the federal landscape into a single, separate Department of Education.

All three groups will experience fewer delays and derive more effective assistance from the federal government in coping with the problems affecting many of our schools.

As president of the state's largest teacher organization, I concur with President Carter when he said, "The department will profoundly transform the quality of education in our nation."

Drug addiction ruins many lives

To the Editor:

This is written with the hope of enlightening someone. The tragic death of Elvis Presley and the criminal charges against his doctor leave a question that haunts me.

Why didn't his associates who knew of his problem get help for him?

If those who loved him—his family, friends and fans—had been aware of his problem, he would have been helped. Now, we have only memories of that wonderful man we loved and cherished, his recorded voice, and our grief.

But millions more Americans are too dependent on and/or addicted to prescription drugs, and they need help.

Some medical experts say our nation's prescription drug problem is far worse than our other drug problem. Many people don't realize they're addicted.

Our society is uneducated about the effects and addictive qualities of some pills. This problem concerns everyone. We are all vulnerable and susceptible to becoming addicted if we are taking prescription pills.

Initially, pills react positively, but prolonged use of some pills is dangerous. Some pills cannot be safely taken together, and pills should never be taken with an alcoholic drink. Many accidental deaths have occurred from pills and alcohol.

Alcohol itself is a drug. When we retrieve a prescription, we should ask our doctor what the pills contain and what the negative effects might be. It's time we quit being nonchalant about prescribed medication.

An incredibly loving and giving man, Elvis was always reaching out to help people. I hope this letter will do likewise.

NEAR EAST report Agony Shared

The nation is outraged and embittered over its citizens being held hostage by terrorists. The country's leaders threaten severe measures if its people are harmed. There is widespread public clamor to deport troublemakers who demonstrate support for the hostage-takers.

This describes the mood of the American people in the weeks since 62 Americans were taken hostage by government-backed extremists at the U.S. embassy in Iran. But it also describes a recurring mood in Israel. If a picture is worth a thousand words, then a shared experience is worth 10,000, and the experience of the last fortnight should illustrate to Americans better than anything else what motivates Israel's intense preoccupation with security, its attacks on the bases of hostage-takers and terrorists, and its unwillingness to accept political formulas that make its citizens easier targets than they already are.

The main difference between the American and Israeli experiences with terrorism is that, so far, Americans have faced the threat only in small numbers, thousands of miles from their country. Israelis face the threat en masse, every day, in their homes.

Considering the current mood, which affects all Americans, from the man on the street to the policymaker at the State Department, it should now be easier to understand Israel's attitude toward terrorism that comes from another group of fanatics in the Middle East—the Palestine Liberation Organization. At the hands of the PLO Israelis have learned not only the agony that comes while the hostages are held, but also the grief that comes when they are murdered.

Unlike America's near-hopeless situation in Iran—where logistical problems virtually rule out an Entebbe-like rescue—Israel has the capability, and perhaps a stronger inclination, to punish terrorists, and sometimes to hit them before they endanger innocent lives. For several months this year Israel staged preemptive attacks on terrorist bases in southern Lebanon, thereby aborting many raids into Israel. Ironically, the State Department criticized those Israeli strikes.

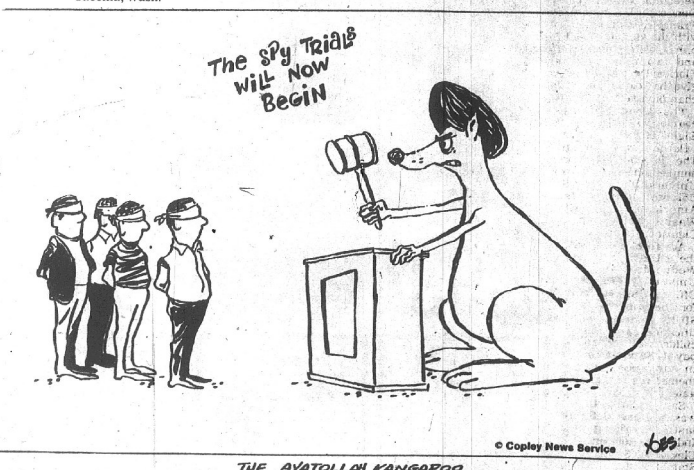

There is another irony in the official U.S. response to Israeli policy. Responding to the mood of the people, the president has ordered the Justice Department to take steps to deport Iranians in the United States who have violated the terms of their visas; there are reports that even some Iranians who oppose Ayatollah Khomeini are threatened with expulsion. At the same time, the State Department has criticized Israel's moves to deport Mayor Bassam al-Shaka of Nablus, the largest city on the West Bank, for alleged involvement with terrorist activities. Press reports of Shaka's expression of "understanding" for the motives behind a terrorist raid in Israel last year reflect only part of the story. Israeli officials say they have far more specific charges against Shaka which will be made at his deportation hearing.

Ties Between the Enemies

Not only are the United States and Israel faced with a common struggle against terrorism; there is also an alliance between their terrorist enemies—the Iranian radicals and the PLO. The PLO helped put the ayatollah in power earlier this year, and if statements by PLO leaders are any indication, there's a good chance some of the embassy invaders in Tehran were trained in PLO camps. Yasir Arafat, the first official visitor to Khomeini in Iran, was given a hero's welcome. During his visit in February, he stated, "Thanks to the Iranian uprising we can now say, 'Bye-bye American interests.'"

This week, Americans were spared further illustration of how their terrorist problem is similar to Israel's when an Israeli patrol boat attacked a boat carrying four Palestinian terrorists off the Israeli coast. The terrorists, two of whom were killed and two captured, were apparently bent on staging the kind of raid for which they are infamous—seizing and killing civilian hostages. While the Israelis foiled this attempt, they were unable to prevent two bombs from going off in Jerusalem, injuring 11 people. The PLO claimed responsibility for the bombings.

Terrorists are the same, whether they strike in Tehran or Jerusalem, Washington or London. When one civilized nation combats terrorism, it should be supported, not undercut—by others.

For overtime win

Venice needs free throws

Press-Record

Sports

GRANITE CITY (Ill.) PRESS-RECORD, Thursday, Nov. 29, 1979—23

By KEVIN ALLEN
of the Press-Record
HIGHLAND — Overtime — nothing unusual about that. Fourteen points in three minutes — out of the ordinary maybe, but not earth shaking. Ten straight successful three throws — good, but not beyond belief.

What made the Venice Devils' season-opening 68-62 win over the St. Paul Vikings Tuesday extraordinary was a combination of all these. That, and the backdrop against which they occurred. It was homecoming. St. Paul's shoe box of a gymnasium, and the place was wall-to-wall noise.

Especially in the rear of the place, where most of the spectators sat on bleachers up on a stage directly overlooking the Venice basketball court.

So in addition to confronting game-on-the-line pressure during the overtime period, when a Red Devil went to the free throw line he also confronted a wall of screeching, handkerchief-waving Viking fans.

What was extraordinary was that Venice sank 10 free throws in the overtime period and went from a 64-62 tie that ended regulation play to the eight-point win.

"We showed a lot of character, I think," Venice coach Ken Perkins said. "We were dragging a little there at the end, but I knew if we got them into overtime it was all over. At the end of the game I was thinking, if we stop them here we've got it."

More than once it looked as if Venice wouldn't get St. Paul into the extra period. There were only 58 seconds left when St. Paul's Dan Robben evened the game with a fast-break lay up. The last minute of regulation was a blur of frantic passes and interceptions that nevertheless yielded no additional points.

Robben was fouled going up for the final basket, but his free throw bounced off the rim and Venice's Kevin Roberts came up with the rebound. The Red Devils took the ball down the court and tried to run out the clock before time for just one more shot. That shot, though, also bounced wide. St. Paul grabbed the rebound. There was time left for the Vikings to attempt the last-basket-drill that Venice had failed. Venice's Kenny Roberts managed to tie up Middleke and force a jump ball. The tip went out of bounds, Red Devil ball.

Venice had time only to bring the ball into play. The buzzer sounded, sending the game into overtime. Perkins credited Kevin Roberts with a large part of the credit for stopping the Vikings. "At the end Robben was carrying the whole load for them. He was about to get fouled, and he was just shut him down in the last 245."

But also shut down was Venice's Kevin Wigfall, who had been prominent in pulling the Red Devils out to a seven point lead by the end of the third quarter.

Wigfall was sidelined almost all of the fourth period with an ankle injury. Venice missed his contribution, as St. Paul came roaring back.

"He's our jumper," Perkins said. "He keeps people off our boards. He does whatever's necessary." Wigfall demonstrated his specialty on Venice's first basket after the start of overtime. Some ankle and all. Wigfall outleaped the Viking defenders, caught a pass in mid-air, and before landing deposited the ball in the basket.

St. Paul came back with two baskets and took a temporary 58-56 lead. But then Venice began its free throw parade. The Red Devils retook the lead, and as St. Paul committed desperate fouls, added to it.

Up until that time, free throws hadn't played such an important role in the game. It was largely a battle of Donald Gardner and Wigfall — Venice's big men — against St. Paul's Roger Kloss and Robben. At the end of the first quarter, the Vikings held a 14-12 lead. By the half, Venice had opened a 28-25 margin. By the start of the fourth period, that had grown to a 43-36 lead.

But then came the wild end of regulation and the clutch Venice overtime free throws.

"I'm just glad to get out of here with a win," Perkins said. "People say 'Madison beat them by 20, so if you don't win by 20 you're not on par with them.' But in this place if you win by one point you've played a helluva game."

Trojans roll to easy win

Special to the Press-Record
O'FALLON, Mo. — It was never close.

In fact, Tuesday night's Madison High 81-45 basketball romp over St. Dominic High of O'Fallon, Mo., was probably not the type of warm-up Trojan coach Larry Graham wanted for his club in preparation for its encounter Friday night at home against East St. Louis Senior at Madison.

But he'll take the win, nonetheless.

In spite of the lop-sidedness of the score, Madison in fact got off to somewhat of a slow start. But things were corrected by the time the end of the first quarter came around with Madison leading 19-8. But then came the second quarter.

Madison was actually outscored by St. Dominic's Crusaders 12-10 in the second period. Ten points in a quarter is probably not enough to be enough for the Trojans

Madison - East Side ticket sales

MADISON — Tickets for Friday night's game here between Madison and East St. Louis Senior went on sale today from 7:30 to 9 a.m. and will be on sale again today from 2:30 to 4:30 p.m.

Tickets will go on sale Friday morning from 7:30 to 8 a.m.

All ticket sales will be in the main office. There will be 600 advance tickets available, priced at $2 for adults and $1 for students with proper identification.

A sell-out crowd is expected at the game, which will begin around 8 p.m. A junior varsity game will precede, beginning at 6:30 p.m.

Friday's game against East St. Louis will match two teams that advanced to the "Elite Eight" quarterfinals last season at the Assembly Hall on the campus of the University of Illinois in Champaign.

Madison advanced on the Class A (small school) level before bowing to eventual runnerup Havana in the quarterfinal. East St. Louis advanced to the Class AA level, beating Effingham by 12 at the Carbondale Supersectional before losing to East Moline in the quarterfinal round at to beat East St. Louis Friday. But Madison went for it in the second half. The Trojans came out of the locker room after halftime and turned the Crusaders every which way but loose, outscoring them 32-15. In the fourth quarter, they doubled the score on their opponents, 20-10.

The big gun in Madison's corner Tuesday night was Charles Claggett. He made eight of 11 field goal attempts for 16 points. Next-high was junior standout Morris Hughes who made six of 11 attempts and two free throws for 14 points. Big (6'4") sophomore Mark Zarr made three of five attempts from the floor and was one-fifth from the free throw line for seven points in a non-starting role.

The victory gives Madison's Trojans a 2-0 record on the young season after they ripped St. Paul of Highland 79-55 last week in their season opener.

The Rhode Island Rams pulled off the biggest upset of the round by defeating the University of Connecticut 3-2

Cougars three away

By AL BARNES
for the Press-Record
EDWARDSVILLE — Two down and three to go.

No, isn't it football. It's soccer and it's the Cougars of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville in the countdown situation.

After invading Dallas, Texas over the past weekend and coming away with a convincing 2-0 victory over Southern Methodist University in the NCAA Midwest Regional, the SIUE kickers of Coach Bob Guelker and assistant Indiana Benben will battle it out this Saturday night against the defending national champion Dons of the University of San Francisco at Cougar Field, with the kickoff slated for 2 p.m. A victory over the Dons and two more at Tampa, Florida Dec. 8 and 9 would give the Cougars the national championship.

The Cougars-Dons encounter will be in the "Elite Eight" of the NCAA Division I (large school) tournament. The six other survivors are number one-ranked Indiana University, Penn State, Columbia, Rhode Island, American University of Washington D.C. and Clemson.

Advance ticket sales for the SIUE-USF game began Wednesday at the SIUE University Center Ticket Office. General admission for the public is $2, while SIUE students with identification cards (as well as children 12 and under) will pay $1. Fans who buy tickets in advance may save themselves a long wait at the gate.

Santa Clara University was the Dons' victim in their last playoff game 3-2. Indiana's Hoosiers smashed Cleveland State 5-0, Penn State's Nittany Lions ran over the Princeton Tigers 3-1, and the Columbia University Lions, edged Hartwick College (the 1977 national champion) 1-0.

South skaters lose

ST. LOUIS — The Granite City High School South Club Hockey team dropped an "exhibition" match here over the weekend to Webster Groves 3-2.

The game was not a regularly-scheduled one and does not count in the regular season final standings for either team.

Webster got the first goal of the game with 10:03 remaining in the first period when Bo Keefer slapped in a teammate's rebounded shot past goalie Chris Hinterser who had made the initial save.

But South came right back. After an eventful interim, Bill McKinnon scored again, making it 2-1. He did it again later in the stanza to make it 3-1, but South came back to make it close.

Tim Phelps got his team's second goal of the game with 3:16 left in the game. But that was as close as South got.

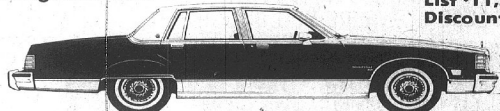

Warriors were two men short.

That disadvantage went over into the third period. It hurt. Just six seconds into the frame, Webster's Keefer scored again, making it 2-1. He did it again later in the stanza to make it 3-1, but South came back to make it close.

The 100th mile:

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following is taken from an article written by SIUE-Edwardsville journalism student Charlie Skaer about Granite Cityan Rick Rose, the world's record holder for running 100 miles. It appeared in Focus Magazine, an SIUE journalism school publication, showcasing student work.

By CHARLIE SKAER
Rick Rose 27 is the world's record holder for the 100-mile run. As any Guinness Book of World Records will show, Rose broke the 100-mile record on May 30, 1978 in a time of 11 hours, 27 minutes and 58 seconds.

Today Rose is running through the streets of Granite City as a part of his training for the 1980 Olympics. Rose has already qualified for the Olympic Marathon trials by running the 26 miles, 385 yards in 2:18:29 at an Amateur Athletic Union (AAU) sanctioned meet in Louisville, Ky. on April 28. All runners in next May's Olympic trials must run at least a 2:20 marathon in an AAU meet to qualify.

"It's harder to be a marathon man than it is to be a runner in any other race in the world," Rose said. "Man, there's so many things involved in running that people don't realize. And marathon running is the hardest because of the endurance you need."

"In fact, other than contact sports like football, where you're going to get your nose broke, track is the toughest sport in the world. I don't care what anybody says because it takes so many hours of training to get up to a peak that's powerful. With some athletes, it takes years."

Granite Cityan Rick Rose is in record book, now looks to bigger things at Olympic Trials

Rose is one of those athletes who has dedicated years of practice in order to become a competitive runner. It took him six different attempts between 1971 and 1976 to finally reach that 10-mile mark and break the world's record.

Even with such endurance and determination, Rose said a number of local residents still don't believe he is a real runner. As an example, he described a recent scene in a local tavern.

"I had a guy the other night wanting to bet me $500 that I couldn't run 26 miles without stopping," Rose said. "He called me a liar. Of course, he was full of branschwager and didn't know what he was talking about."

"But he kept bugging me and bugging me and I finally said, 'No, I don't want to do it because I don't have 500 bucks to back it.'"

The man then agreed that Rose wouldn't have to put up $500, just run 26 miles and let the man drive beside him and watch. However, Rose turned down the man's offer.

Spending time in taverns is a favorite pastime of Rose, mainly because he once owned his own, Rick's Pub, from 1975 to 1976.

"I hustled my way into it," Rose said. "A man from Worthen gave me a $10,000 loan on just a handshake."

Rose sold the business about a year after owning it because of common troubles faced by any tavern owner. "We've got some rough people in this area," he said. "I didn't want to get into any more trouble of having to smack somebody upside the head because they pulled a gun."

NEXT: How Rose got the idea to try and break the record.

Collinsville nips Terriers

By RICK WELLE
For the Press-Record
GRANITE CITY — At the end of the first game, Normal, Ill. and the state finals looked a long way off. The Collinsville girls' volleyball team was overcome convincingly, by the spiking of Carbondale in the first game of the Class AA Super-sectional at Granite City South Tuesday night, 20-4.

After the first game the Kahoks dashed into the locker room to regroup. Not more than a minute and a half later they came back out and turned the tables on the Terriers, beating them in the next two games, 20-6, 20-7.

So watch out, Normal. The Kahoks are coming.

Before the match the Kahoks were obviously nervous. Peggy Brombolich was jumping up and down, hyping herself up. Peggy Spennemann held her hands up to her mouth indicating her tension.

From the first point of the first game the momentum was with the Terriers. Little things weren't going right. The first serve was returned, just to be spiked right back by Carbondale's Rachaelle Hayes. Diane McCarthy was called for stepping on the center line. Brombolich's spike was blocked at the net.

After the Kahoks fell to 12-3 in the first game, coach Jean Willmore substituted Joann Ohlendorf, a 5-1 seniors, for Diane McCarthy to try to get the Kahoks on track.

That never came, and the Kahoks lost 20-4. The first point of the second game set the tone for the rest of the match. Ann Price sent over a good serve that was handled well by the Carbondale defense but spiked wide.

With confidence she could score, Price proceeded to tally five consecutive points before McCarthy mishandled a set.

The Kahoks took a 9-1 lead when Carbondale coach Jennifer Stanley called a time-out.

By that time, the 300-plus Kahok partisan crowd had already started whooping it up, clapping in time to bolster the Collinsville offense. The Kahoks responded by taking a 13-2 lead before Debbie Nesbitt of Carbondale marked up four straight points.

At the end of the second game it was the Terriers who headed for the locker room. But the last game was no better than the second for Stanley's Terriers. The Kahoks jumped out to a quick 6-1 lead before Carbondale managed to get on track.

The Terriers managed to pull within one, 7-6. But Julie Camul put together three straight points and Carbondale called a time-out.

Seven GC gridders 1st team all-conference

By PETE HAYES

of the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY — Seven players from Granite City high schools have been named to the first team All-Gateway East Conference football team by the coaches of that league. In all, 28 Granite City players were mentioned in some way in the All-Conference selections, including two who were selected at two positions.

Besides the seven first team members, there were 10 second team selections and 13 honorable mentions from Granite.

Steel City kickers dominate '79 elite squad

By PETE HAYES
Sports Editor
of the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY — This year's edition of the Press-Record All-Area soccer team has taken on an appearance of the "Big Two" versus the rest.

Ten of the 12 players named to the All-Area team are from either Granite City North or state champion Granite City South. The reason 12 players were named is that there was a tie at one of the backfield positions — one that could not be broken. So both were named to the squad.

By interviews with area coaches, the Press-Record sports staff came up with the team. There will no doubt be some players left off who were deserving. But that's the way with all-star teams. Some newspapers feel they must put at least one player from just about every town in their areas on all-star teams. To keep people happy.

But we feel the object of an all-star team is to honor those players who are the best at their position regardless of what school they play for.

The two players on the squad not from Granite City are from Collinsville, which shows just where the cream of the soccer crop exists in this area — southern Madison County. One of them is placed at a position on the all-area team he's not used to. Robbie Mann of Collinsville, one of the top strikers in the area, simply couldn't break into the front line of Mark Jones and Mike Robertson of North and Jeff Tinsley of South. So Mann was placed at midfield. He was too good to leave off the team, many thought.

Here's a look at the All-Area team:

BOB BATEY of Granite City North has earned a reputation around the area as one of the toughest midfielders in the state. The stocky senior was at the right place at the right time, racking up 12 assists. He also plays basketball and is one of the top shortstops in the area when playing on the North baseball team.

JACK BURNETT of Granite South is one of the finest soccer players in the state and a premier defender. Burnett has a distinction that is hard to match. He has been a starter on all four South state championship teams. The tall kicker led his team in scoring this season. Pretty impressive for a back, right? Yes, but 14 of his 18 goals were by penalty kick. Because of his contribution to his team's fourth straight state championship, and because he has started on all four, Burnett has been selected as the honorary captain of the All-Area team.

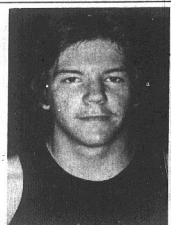

RANDY DEROUSSE, a back from South, can be described in one term: hard-nosed. The burly Warrior defender has earned many honors during his prep career. He has played on three state championship teams at South and last summer was chosen to the Illinois Select soccer team, the Midwest Select team and was chosen to play on the U.S. Junior Olympic Team. Injured during the sectional playoffs, DeRousse came back and started every game at the state finals earlier this month in Palatine.

DAVID FERNANDEZ of South is considered one of the best players in the Midwest. The junior midfielder missed almost half the season because of a knee injury suffered at the National Sports Festival in Colorado — the try-out for the Junior Olympic Team. But when he came back, Fernandez was his old self. Dazzling opponents with his ball-handling and foot work. He was left off the all-state team because of the time he had missed.

MARK JONES of North set a new school scoring record this season by knocking in 24 goals, eclipsing the old mark set two seasons ago by Eric Painter. Jones was a constant sight to opposing goalies — much to their dismay. It mattered not to Jones how he scored. He did it with both his feet and his head.

JOHN KEFALAS of North is perhaps one of the smartest soccer players ever to play in Granite City.

JOHN KEFALAS

ROBBIE MANN

TONY PIERCE

MATT PRSHA

MIKE ROBERTSON

RANDY SCHRENK

JEFF TINSLEY

Always thinking, Kefalas was a steady influence on his Steeler teammates. Kefalas, along with Burnett, is one of the top backfield players in the Midwest.

ROBBIE MANN of Collinsville was one of the most feared strikers in the state. A member of the same Southern Illinois Select Team as Fernandez, DeRousse, Tony Pierce and Jack Burnett, the personable Mann came back from a motorcycle accident to lead his team to its upset win over North in the sub-sectional final a week later.

TONY PIERCE is a goalie with a story. He was the starting keeper last season at North but transferred to South during the past summer where his dream of a state championship was realized. A very intelligent goalie, Pierce not only was able to make the difficult saves, but "directed traffic" on his team, calling out holes in the defense he had spotted or simply encouraging his team — somewhat like a catcher in baseball.

MATT PRSHA, a Collinsville Kahok, was a steady defender, not flashy. A hard-nosed player, he gained a reputation of being one of the most physical players around.

MIKE ROBERTSON, a forward from North, is an all-around athlete. In addition to being one of the best (and quickest) ball-handlers on that Steeler soccer team, he is also an excellent third baseman for Coach Bob Stegemeier's baseball Stealers and is currently preparing for North's basketball opener Friday in Wood River. He's a forward on the squad.

RANDY SCHRENK, a North Steeler, didn't get the big headlines this season, but most of the coaches contacted felt he is one of the best. A consistent player, he seldom makes a mistake. JEFF TINSLEY from South, a senior forward, is a quick player who does smart things away from the ball. But when he gets his hands — or his feet — on the ball, watch out. Tinsley got loose for three goals in the state finals.

"The success of last year's project, which played to a standing room only audience of over 450, has encouraged this continuing activity in the speech department at North," Dr. Goni Michaeloff as head of the North speech department, said.

This production marks the first theater project for the new Thespian Speech Club.

The members are planning a series of projects this year in an attempt to raise funds for a possible spring trip to Hollywood, Calif.

"All-student drama projects are rare, if nonexistent, at the high school level. Speech students at North are proving that they are highly capable of handling all aspects of theater production," Dr. Michaeloff said.

"The three students who are in charge of the production staff are seniors. They plan to continue their interest in theater by enrolling in a university and majoring in communication arts."

"Eric Disney, who is the producer of this year's production, served as director last year. The two directors this year are Bob Slate and Mark Belleville," Dr. Michaeloff said.

North staff members assisting Dr. Michaeloff with the production are Harry Cook, audio-visual director, will supervise the television taping and Mrs. Lucille Caban, secretary to the principal, handling correspondence, tickets and programs.

Tips on picking a tax preparer

Internal Revenue Service

If you're one of the millions of people who hire a tax consultant or will have a commercial tax preparer do your income tax return for you, the Internal Revenue Service reminds you to take the time to choose an honest, reputable individual.

After all, no matter who advises you or fills out your tax return, you are legally responsible for what is on it. Carefully selecting a consultant or preparer now could save you trouble later.

Tax consultants and return preparers do not have to be licensed. While most are honest and competent, there is little to stop an unqualified or dishonest person from doing this important work.

But the dishonest are recognized by some of the claims they make. Does the preparer's advertising guarantee you a refund? That should be a warning, since no one can know whether you are entitled to a refund until he or she knows your income, filing status, withholding and dependents.

Does the consultant promise that he will shave your last year's tax liability by one-third or less, or that there are some "special loopholes" that he or she is going to share with you? Watch out for consultants or preparers who base their refund or itemized deductions. They may inflate their profit by inflating your refund or deductions, or both.

Some preparers may claim "inside knowledge" of the IRS computer system or a "special relationship" which allows them to know the formula IRS uses to select returns for examination. Don't believe them. Very few people have this information and none of them are return preparers, nor do any preparers have a special relationship with IRS.

Look for a preparer or consultant who's available year-round. In case your return is examined, you may want the preparer or consultant to answer questions about how the return was filled out.

At the same time, remember that the preparer is not primarily responsible for the accuracy of the information on the return.

Once you've found a preparer, you can protect yourself by signing only a return which is complete, correct and permanent. Never sign a blank return or one made out in pencil. And insist that the preparer sign the return in the space provided below your signature.

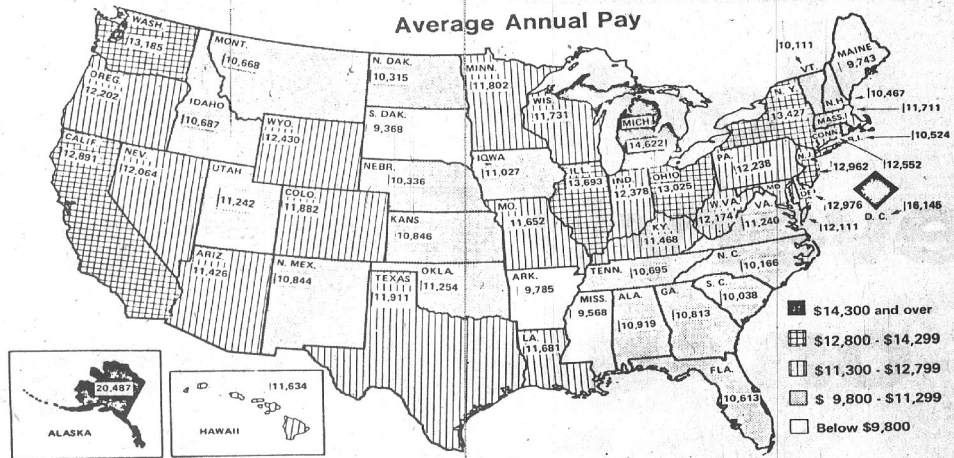

Make sure that any refund due is mailed directly to you. That way, you'll know the return was sent in the way you signed it, and that you're getting all of your refund.

When selecting a return preparer or tax consultant, choose as wisely as you would were you selecting a family doctor—or an auto mechanic.

December gardening Pay in state tops national average

By CHRIS DOLL
Area Garden Adviser

At this time of year, most garden chores should be completed. But for the gardener with a busy November or a complete fruit and vegetable garden, a few tasks may still need to be performed. These are:

—Mulch strawberries after the plants are dormant but before the temperatures drop below 20 degrees. This is usually after mid-November. Mulching will prevent winter injury to the plant and should make for cleaner berries next spring.

—Cut asparagus tops after they have been frosted or leave them stand all winter to trap the snow.

—Check for mice populations around fruit trees and plants. Their presence will be noted by tunnels, holes or nibbled fruit, in which case you will need traps, bait stations or a good cat.

—Make provisions for controlling mice in fruit and vegetable storages. War-far-type baits are effective as long as the bait is kept dry and available to the rodents.

—Store pesticides in a clean, dry, safe place. Dry materials and powders will retain their effectiveness if kept dry. Liquids should not freeze. Keep storages locked to prevent any accidental openings.

—Clean tools and equipment to prevent rust and corrosion. Make repairs now, so that everything is ready for the first day of spring.

—The southwest side of trunks of young peach, cherry, plum and apricot trees may be painted with white latex paint (diluted to half-strength with water) to prevent sunscald during the winter. Don't use oil-base paints.

—Destroy insect and disease-infested plant material by burning or burying. This includes the mummified fruits on or under peach and plum trees.

—Broken limbs or branches can be pruned off for cosmetic purposes, but general pruning of fruit plants should be delayed until late winter.

—Flow or spade the garden for an early start next year.

—Collect soil samples from garden areas that haven't yielded up to expectations or where you need to know the nutritional levels.

—Make provisions for rabbit control. Spray or paint susceptible plants with rabbit repellent, wrap with wire guards, or build a fence to keep them out.

According to new data published by the U.S. Department of Labor's Bureau of Labor Statistics, average annual pay of workers covered by state and federal unemployment insurance programs is highest in Alaska and the District of Columbia.

The data, for 1978, were compiled from the records of unemployment insurance programs. The statistics cover states as well as standard metropolitan statistical areas.

Average annual pay was computed by dividing total annual payrolls of employers by average monthly employment. The figures approximate the average annual earnings paid to employees in various geographic areas.

Average annual pay was highest in Alaska ($20,487) and the District of Columbia ($16,145). These figures were 68.7 percent and 32.9 percent, respectively, above the national average of $12,144.

Mississippi ($9,568) and South Dakota ($9,368) were the states with the lowest average pay figures.

Average annual pay among states is affected by differences in the industrial and occupational mix of their respective economies as well as differences in basic pay levels of workers.

The Illinois figure was $13,693. The distribution of average annual pay among states indicates there are 18 states with averages close to that for the Nation, seven states with averages slightly above the national average, and 19 states with averages slightly below.

Among the 286 selected standard metropolitan statistical areas (SMSAs), Anchorage, Alaska ($20,563) and Flint, Michigan ($16,917) had the highest average annual pay and were 67.6 percent and 39.3 percent, respectively, above the national average.

Earnings gap between women, men persists

The Women's Bureau of the U.S. Department of Labor has issued a revised edition of "The Earnings Gap Between Women and Men." According to the publication, women have to work nearly nine days to gross the same amount that men gross in five days. The latest earnings data, which are for 1977, show that among full-time workers employed throughout the year, men earned $14,626 while women earned $8,618, only 59 cents for every dollar men earned.

The data also show that the differential has remained at about its present level since 1961, in spite of the employment gains women have made in recent years. The gap is wider, however, than it was in 1955, when women earned about 64 cents for every dollar men earned. The publication discusses factors related to the earnings gap, such as the concentration of women in low-paying traditional jobs, and the large number of new entrants to the labor force who are in or near the entry level of jobs.

Differences in the occupations and industries in which women and men are employed, their educational attainment, and their work experience also are highlighted. Single free copies of the publication are available from the Women's Bureau, U.S. Department of Labor, Washington, D.C. 20202. The publication is for sale at $1.50 a copy from the Superintendent of Document, U.S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C. 20402.

Flags dedicated by County Salon

Madison County Salon 53, Eight and Forty, held its monthly meeting at the American Legion Home in Alton last week, with the chapeau, Mrs. Audrey Krick, presiding.

A dedication ceremony was held for a new set of table flags presented by Miss Dorothy Hinson of the Quad-Cities, past chapeau. The ceremony was conducted by Chapeau Krick.

The obligation pledge was given to a new member, Mrs. Kenneth Leroy of Highland, who was welcomed by the group.

Mrs. Grace Hornmann, children and youth chairman, reported that cloth ditty bags are being made to send to the National Jewish Hospital in Denver, Colorado. These bags will be filled with items such as a comb, toothbrush and paste, soap and Kleenex, to be given to children who enter the N.J.H. for tests and treatment.

Mrs. Kaye Werder, nurse scholarship chairman, was presented a gift from the departmental chairman, Mrs. Elaine Merz, for the salon's donation to the first drive for scholarship funds. Invitations were read and plans were made for members to attend the St. Clair County and Greene-Calhoun counties parties for entertaining the departmental chapeau, Mrs. Ivon Mitchell of Manteno, Ill.

It was announced that the state convention will be held in Springfield July 25-26-27, 1980, instead of in Chicago as in the past.

A new salon has been chartered, with members living in Perry, Union and Randolph counties. Installation ceremonies for this group will be held on Jan. 13 at the American Legion Home in DuQuoin. Plans to attend were discussed.

Plans were completed for the salon Christmas party which will be held at the Venice-Madison American Legion Post 307, Home on Dec. 18.

Attending from this area were Mrs. Ivon (Frances) Cowley, Mrs. Harold (Mary) Ballentine, Mrs. Grace Hornmann and Miss Dorothy Hinson.

2 hearings on health planning County officers' new pay schedule

The Greater St. Louis Health Systems Agency (HSA) has scheduled two consecutive public hearings to take place at its offices, 915 Olive St., 15th floor, on Thursday, Dec. 6.

A hearing at 6 p.m. will concern the HSA's proposed application to the federal government for funding for a fifth year of operation. The second hearing, at 7 p.m., will concern its proposed plan for improving health services in the St. Louis metropolitan region, known as Health Systems' Plan (HSP).

The grant application contains a statement of the qualifications and composition of the governing body of the agency, the proposed budget and work program for the 1980-81 fiscal year, and a progress report for the 1979-80 year.

The Health Systems Plan examines the health services in the metropolitan area and health status of area residents, and identifies specific goals, objectives and recommended steps for improving these over a five-year period.

The plan is divided into four major components: acute care, long-term care, primary care and mental health.

There is also a "health systems enabling" section which addresses third-party reimbursement. The current revision is shorter and the wording is less technical than an earlier version.

The agency is encouraging interested citizens to attend these hearings and to submit oral or written testimony on the draft documents.

Written comments may be of any length. Oral comments are requested to be limited to five minutes or less. Both documents are available at certain libraries for inspection and copying during normal hours of operation.

In Illinois, the libraries are the Kaskaskia System library headquarters, 306 Main St., Smithton; Lewis and Clark Systems library headquarters, Edwardsville; and the Morrison-Talbot Library, 571 Franklin St., Carlyle.

The documents are also available for inspection and copying at the HSA office, 915 Olive, from 8:30 to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday.

The Greater St. Louis Health Systems Agency is the official health planning and health resource development agency for the nine-county metropolitan region, having received this designation from the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, authorized by the National Health Planning and Resource Development Act of 1974.

The Madison County Board has adopted new salary schedules for county officers to be elected in 1980. The new salaries for elective offices, all now receiving $24,000 per year, are:

Auditor, circuit clerk and recorder of deeds—$25,680 the first year, then $27,480, $29,405 and $31,465 in subsequent years.

Coroner—$23,540, $25,185, $26,950 and $28,835.

Salaries adopted for department heads for 1980 average about seven percent over current salaries. The new salaries (with the 1979 salaries in parenthesis) are:

Director of Administration Mary Kane, $24,925 (her predecessor, Matt Melucci, received $25,500).

Manpower Program Director Dan Churovich, $24,180 ($23,685).

Environmental Control and Building and Zoning Administrator Paul Hawkins, $23,228 ($22,684).

Community Development Director Cheryl Joutet, $21,935 (her predecessor Mary Kane received $22,295).

TB Clinic Administrator L. Schneider, $18,841 ($17,606).

Aluminum

recycling
each Friday

During the holiday season, area residents can give a lift to their Christmas budget and their community by recycling aluminum, the Reynolds Aluminum Recycling Co. is reminding them. It pays 23 cents a pound for all aluminum, beverage cans and other clean household aluminum items.

Aluminum recycling not only pays cash but reduces litter and saves 95 percent of the energy required to produce aluminum from bauxite ore. The 131 million pounds Reynolds recycled in the first nine months of 1979 saved over 850 million kilowatt hours of electrical energy, the firm says.

Besides all aluminum beverage cans and other clean household aluminum products such as pie plates, foil, frozen food and dinner trays, and dip, aluminum recycling also takes old metal containers, Reynolds pays 23 cents a pound for certain other aluminum items — including siding, gutter, storm door and window frames, and lawn furniture tubing; these must be cut to lengths not exceeding three feet and must not be mixed with aluminum cans.

Certain aluminum castings also are recyclable. They include aluminum bumpers and automotive grills, pots and pans, power lawnmower housings, and barbecue grills.

Recyclers can bring their aluminum to the Reynolds mobile unit located in the Crossroads Plaza Shopping Center, Nameoki and Ponton roads, every Friday from 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. Recyclers may also bring their aluminum to the Reynolds plant, 110 Iowa Ave., Belleville, from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Tuesdays through Saturdays except Dec. 25, 26 and 29.

Winterizing roses

By WAYNE SIEFERT
Area Horticulture Adviser
Frequent changes in temperature are worse for wintering roses than a long cold snap. A good way to improve the survival of your roses is to mulch the crown of each plant and prune off the rest.

A mound of dry leaves, corn cobs, wood bark or well rotted inches high is guaranteed to improve survival and performance, compared to a mound of soil over the crown or no mulch at all.

While both the dry mulch and the mound of soil regulate the day-to-day fluctuation in temperature, the soil creates a cold, wet environment that favors the spread of canker diseases and rot. In the spring, roses mulched with soil often show dark streaks on the mulched stems or blackened stems due to canker. The dry mulch products achieve the same job of winter protection while creating an environment that discourages these serious diseases. Whether you use rose covers or dry mulch products such as wood bark, or the leaves, don't be too anxious. Delay your efforts until the roses have lost their leaves to drop. Then prune back hybrid teas, floribundas and grandifloras to 15 to 18-inch stubs. Be sure to destroy all the prunings.

Comedy tryouts on Dec. 1, 2

East Bank Players will hold tryouts beginning at 4 p.m. Saturday, Dec. 1, and 2 p.m., Sunday, Dec. 2, for their upcoming production of "The Whole Town is Talking."

The show is scheduled to open in early January and is expected to run for eight weeks, with performances on Friday and Saturday nights. The cast numbers 13 and the show is a three-act farce set in the 1920s concerning a man who invents a rumor about a romance with a well-known movie star.

Complications result when the star reads about her involvement and decides to visit the town and the man. The director, Mrs. Dorothy Newbert (644-5472), has indicated she will double cast the show due to the number of performances. East Bank Players is a non-profit organization and anyone interested in community theater, regardless of experience, is invited to audition.

Tryouts will be held in the theater of Elliot's Three Mile House Restaurant, three miles north of Edwardsville on Route 159.

SIUE president will be selected in spring of '80

A revised structure and guidelines for the Presidential Search Committee at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville have been approved by Dr. Kenneth A. Shaw, chancellor of the SIU system. They were announced to the university committee on Monday.

Guidelines announced originally by Dr. Shaw on Sept. 18 were revised after consultation with the chancellor by representatives of the Faculty Senate, University Staff Advisory Council and Student Senate. Comments on the revisions in a bulletin to the faculty, staff and students, Dr. Shaw said: "The guidelines provide for substantial constituency involvement in the selection of a president of SIUE and also contain assurances that the work of the Search Committee will be respected."

The chancellor said he has asked the leader of each of the groups represented on the committee to submit to him by Dec. 10 the names of persons willing to serve on the committee.

He said he plans to appoint members of the committee as soon as possible after all nominations have been received, and he hopes to convene the first meeting of the committee prior to the Christmas holidays.

Under the revised guidelines, the committee will be composed of 12 persons, instead of 11, and will select its own chairman from the membership of the committee.

Dr. Shaw had appointed Lawrence E. Taliana, professor of psychology, to serve as chairman and to select members of the committee from nominations made by the various constituency groups. Taliana resigned the chairmanship Oct. 26, citing the decision to revise the guidelines and procedures. According to the new guidelines, the committee will consist of five representatives of the Faculty Senate instead of four; three representatives of the Student Senate, but with only two votes, instead of two votes as previously; two representatives of the University Staff Advisory Council; and one representative each from the Deans' Conference and Alumni Association.

The representation for the last three groups is unchanged from the previous guidelines. Each group will provide double the number of names required to complete its representation on the committee. Each group may indicate its preferences, and the guidelines provide that the chancellor will honor these preferences "except in cases of compelling need for purposes of diversity."

The chancellor said any deviation from the preferences will be publicly explained by him. The committee will establish its own internal procedures, subject to ratification by the chancellor.

According to the guidelines, the committee will have freedom to determine which applicants it wishes to interview, which it wishes to reject, and which it wishes to recommend to the chancellor.

The committee is to submit the names of at least three candidates, in alphabetical order, to the chancellor by April 15, 1980. The chancellor will recommend a single person from the list to the SIU Board of Trustees for appointment as president of SIUE. Earl Lazerson is the acting president.

The guidelines also stipulate that if the chancellor finds that none of the candidates recommended is acceptable or willing to accept the position, he will consult with the search committee on the next steps to be taken.

The presidential vacancy developed when Dr. Shaw was promoted to chancellor.

Sisterhood serves Macedonian dinner

The members of the Sisterhood of Sts. Cyril and Methody Eastern Orthodox Church served as hostesses to all parishioners of the church in November at a Sunday dinner held after the divine liturgy. Approximately 105 persons attended.

The Sisterhood, whose purpose is to assist the church, chose to host this dinner during its November meeting prior to the spiritual preparation of the Christmas Advent.

Coordinators for the dinner were Mrs. Mary Tarpoft and Mrs. Eleanor Todoroff who organized the arrangements with Sisterhood members to prepare various traditional Macedonian dishes and pastries.

Macedonian dinner dishes included: Zelen Fasso (green beans with fresh mushrooms) by Miss Elaine Todoroff; Blage Kurtolee (sweet potato walnut souffle) by Mrs. Mary Tarpoft; Posnen Gyonovech (Macedonian stew of fresh okra, zucchini, eggplant, sweet peppers, tomatoes, and onions) by Mrs. Latsa Popovsky; Macedonian Domashen Hleb (rye and white round loaf breads) by Mrs. Christina Yovonoff; Mrs. Dorothy Goodrich, and by Mrs. Latsa Popovsky; Meso-n-rhezzen (beef-on-spit with a Macedonian herb seasoned sauce) by Mrs. Mary Tarpoft; Trousha (pickled green peppers and green tomatoes) by Mrs. Christina Yovonoff; Macedonian-Greens Salata with feta cheese and herb dressing by Mrs. Helen Christich.

Traditional Macedonian dessert pastries included: European Yeast Strudels with apples, walnuts, and raisins, by Mrs. Venka Ambuehl; Baklava, by Mrs. Tasa Georgeff; Nut Peeta, by Mrs. Elizabeth Malincheff; Cottage Cheese Zelnick, by Mrs. Tsana Michaeloff; Nut Horn cookies, by Mrs. Catherine Dimitroff; Ravaneza with honey, by Mrs. Milka Vasiloff; Petolee donuts sprinkled with powdered sugar, by Mrs. Latsa Popovsky; coffee by Mrs. Mary Andria, and by Mrs. Eva Goulis.

Decorations of the Macedonian pastry table were by The Popadeya, Monica Gurovich. After the dinner, the monthly meeting of the Sisterhood was conducted by Miss Eleanor Popovsky, president.

A lesson was presented by Father Daniel Gurovich, rector of Sts. Cyril and Methody Eastern Orthodox Church.

His topic was "The Philippian Fast, the forty days prior to the celebration of the Feast of the Holy Nativity of the Lord. Father Daniel explained how part of the preparation for this great feast lies in reflecting on what the gift of Christ is in one's life and how that has changed since last Christmas."

CAMPER IS LOOTED

Three fishing rods and reels, a tackle box, an undetermined number of fishing lures and a back pack were stolen from the pickup camper of Fred Frenkel, 1713 Venice Ave., parked at his home between 9 and 10 p.m. Wednesday. The victim said he thinks he left the rear door of the camper unlocked.

File charge 64-member committee of assault for Allen's campaign

Albert L. Baiter, 23, of 1911 Grand Ave., was charged with aggravated assault on a complaint signed by Janet Marie Davis, who alleged he held a knife to her throat and threatened her in front of Ken's Lounge, 1539 E. Twentieth St., last week. Police also filed a state charge of disorderly conduct against him.

It was alleged he was in the tavern with the victim and became angry, so he took her outside, yelled obscenities at her and then threatened her with the knife. She broke free and ran back inside the tavern, she said. When Baiter allegedly followed her, other patrons subdued him and held him until police arrived, it was reported.

Marshall School hosts open house

A gymnastic program given by the fourth grade students of Mrs. Lois Mullen provided an interesting presentation at the open house observation of Marshall School, last week.

The program was under the direction of Mrs. Judy Collins, physical education teacher. Each parent was given a program as they arrived and welcomed by Denny Asbeck, PTA president.

Principal Richard Ault announced the annual event is held in conjunction with American Education Week at all schools.

Hosting the affair were room mothers, PTA officers and school faculty.

A wine and cheese party to announce the provisions of Dick Allen for State's Attorney Campaign Committee was held last week at Tony's Restaurant in Granite City.

The event was attended by over 100 Quad-City and Madison County residents. Dan O'Neill, an Alton attorney, introduced the following elected officials and candidates:

Andy Matoesian, associate circuit judge and a candidate for circuit judge; Von Dee Cruse, Granite City Township assessor.

Emil Toffant, Madison County sheriff; Nick Petrillo, Granite City treasurer; Mayor Paul Schuler of Granite City; Willard Portell, circuit clerk; George Gordon, a Granite City commissioner.

Foster Frederick, a Granite City committeeman; Myles McCall, Alton committeeman; Willard Herzog, a Granite City committeeman; Boyd Zimmerman, representing Mick Henkhaus, county treasurer.

Glen Sprankle, a Granite City committeeman and alderman; Mike Modrusic, a Granite City alderman; Frank Fuszessy, a Granite City committeeman; Carmen Kerr, a Fort Russell committeeman; and John McConnell of Alton, a former Madison County Democratic chairman.

Candidate Allen, a Granite City attorney, thanked all of those in attendance, and announced that a similar event will be held in about a month.

A campaign committee now includes 64 members in Madison County, and more are being added, Allen said.

Anybody Want To Trade Even

'73 Olds Delta 88, 2 dr. Ht., 58xxx. Just tuned up, winterize, not junk, not new just a average car and I can't understand why I have been trouble trying to sell it. So if any body got the same problem and would happen to have something that runs good, car, pickup, motorcycle, etc., of equal value and I sure don't want to trade for something that needs any repairs, I would be more than glad to try what you have got, for sure now, equal value.

SHOTS ARE FIRED

Madison County sheriff's deputies were dispatched to the 4700 block of Wamock Ave., at 6:45 p.m. Monday on reports that two shotgun blasts, followed by a woman's screaming, had been heard by neighbors. Deputies questioned several persons in that block, but were unable to find anything suspicious.

Romans 10:17 "... So then faith cometh by hearing, and hearing by the Word of God."

God's Word is eternal. It will stand throughout the ages. God's Word is good. Never does God teach us or instruct us to do wrong. Not to our neighbors, but to ourselves. The Word builds your faith.

It is very foolish to follow after man's wisdom, even though his words are incorrect, if his wisdom is contrary to God's Word. God is our Creator. By Him we live. Through His Son we have abundant life. Every good and perfect gift comes from our Father above. He is no respecter of persons.

God loves you! Read His Word and find out just how much.
increase your faith in God. Today.

HENRY CRIPPEN, Pastor
